PRESBYTERIANS AT TORONTO CONGRESS

Deep Interest Shown in the Outcome of Movement for Church Union

PROGRAMME TO DEVELOP FOREIGN MISSION WORK

Dr. Charles W. Gordon Makes Definite Reply on Important Question

UNION CONSUMMATED BY ASSEMBLY NEXT YEAR

Toronto, May 31.—The Presbyterian congress opens in this city at three o'clock to-day, and all the present indications are that the fullest expectations of the committee in charge will be realized. Toronto is the home of Knox College, the most important theological college of the denomination. The reunion here of the alumni of the college will be by far the greatest that has ever occurred. Arrangements are being completed for formal reunions of the graduates of all the colleges of the church in Canada, and all of these will be the most important that have ever occurred.

Special trains carrying large parties for the congress have already arrived and every important hotel in the city has a number of ministers and their friends among its guests. By the ministers the congress is regarded practically as an integral part of the assembly, and the subject discussed by the visitors is rather the work of the assembly than the inspirational meetings of the congress. A deep interest is shown in the outcome of the movement for church union and in the programme for a great development of foreign missionary work in China. The plans of General Superintendent Dr. A. S. Grant for a great forward movement are also the subject of considerable discussion.

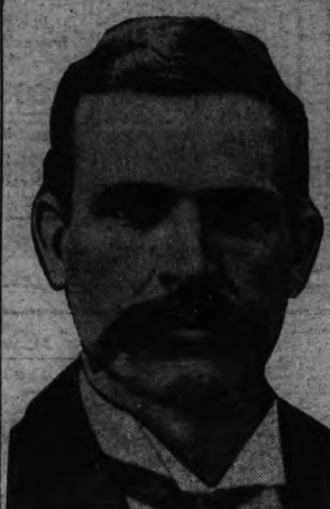

No announcement has yet been made regarding the report which the committee on union will present. The general tone of the report is, however, well known, and it is conceded that this important cause will be advanced another stage toward consummation.

Rev. Dr. Charles W. Gordon, a distinguished leader of the church in Western Canada, was asked whether, in his opinion, the holding of the great Presbyterian congress with its appeal to denominational loyalty would have the effect of checking the movement for church union. Dr. Gordon made a vigorous and definite reply. "The great congress to which we have looked forward with so much interest," he said, "will work in the opposite direction. The whole purpose of this great gathering is to give to the church a glimpse of the greatness of its task. As soon as Christian people realize the magnitude of this work they will understand that they must get together; in the past we have failed. We must now adopt a new plan of attack. There are great problems to be solved, economic problems, industrial unrest, social unrest. The feeling of Christians at the present day is one of inadequacy. Christianity proposes to solve these problems. We have tried to solve them for many hundred years on the old lines; now we propose to try something new. The vastness of the task is the call to a union of forces."

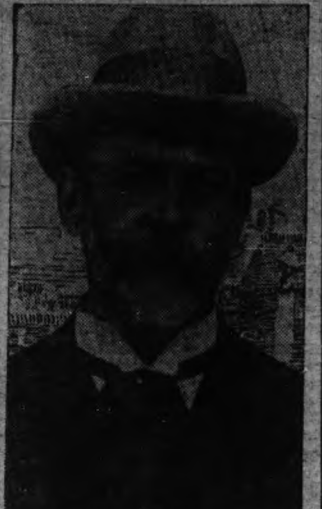

The report of the committee on union will be presented to the assembly by Rev. Dr. W. J. Clark, of Montreal. The question will, no doubt, be debated in the assembly, but there is now no distinguished leader of the church to maintain the cause of those who are opposed to organic union. Principal John McKay, of Vancouver, who resisted the movement in the past, is no longer on that side, and gives support to the report, which will be committed to the assembly. It is believed that the present assembly will adopt the report of the committee, and ask Presbyterian people to consider the question again during the coming year and to vote for the second and last time. It is believed that the union will be finally consummated by the assembly of 1914.

At the congress the present condition of China will be fully discussed, and the church will ask for hundreds of young men for service in that land. Men are wanted there for the schools, the colleges, for the practice of medicine, as well as for the strictly religious work. It is believed that an appeal will be made to the churches of Great Britain, the United States and Canada to come to the aid of the new republic in the East in the way of sympathy and help. Rev. Dr. R. P. McKay, former moderator of the assembly, who is in charge of foreign mission work, says that there is need to-day for 20,000 young men of British education in the Chinese republic. Rev. Dr. A. S. Grant, who has been the main cause of the holding of the present congress will present his plan for the future work of the church. It is conceded here that Rev. Dr. Murdoch McKenzie, of Hoonan, China, will be named as the moderator of the assembly. (Concluded on page 7.)

HON. ANDREW FISHER

HON. JOSEPH COOK

CONTENDERS FOR POLITICAL SUPREMACY IN THE COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA

Sydney, May 30.—Hon. Andrew Fisher and Hon. Joseph Cook, leaders respectively of the Labor-ministerial and Liberal parties of Australia, to-morrow fight for the political supremacy of the Commonwealth. The vote to be cast throughout the states will, from the organization standpoint, be one of the largest ever recorded in the political history of the Antipodean continent.

While sections of both parties accord Mr. Fisher a victory at the polls in the cities, there is much doubt, even in his own ranks, as to the outcome of the election in the large farming districts. It is believed that the agriculturists of the Commonwealth hold the balance of power and that whichever way these votes go the election will result accordingly.

Last election the polling booths were opened at 8 a. m. and closed practically at 7. On this occasion they will not close until all the electors present in the polling booth at 8 o'clock in the evening, and desiring to vote, have voted.

NEWETT RETRACTS ROOSEVELT LIBEL

Jury Brings in a Verdict for Plaintiff for Six Cents

Marquette, Mich., May 31.—George A. Newett went on the witness stand this afternoon and retracted the alleged libel charging Roosevelt with drunkenness. He said he had been impressed that an injustice had been done the colonel in the publication of the article and deeply regretted it. The plaintiff then, in person, asked the judge to instruct the jury to bring in merely nominal damages.

The character of the evidence introduced in the forenoon was unvarying. Colonel Roosevelt had always been very abstemious. The witnesses who testified personally were Joseph E. Bayless, of Sault Ste. Marie, who testified to having read the alleged libelous article; Emile Roosevelt, a first cousin of the plaintiff; William Loeb, Jr., former private secretary to the plaintiff; Frank Tyree and James Sloan, secret service men; and William P. Shaufoe, a railroad man who handled one of the Roosevelt itineraries in Ohio.

Depositions of Albert Shaw, the editor; George B. Cortelyou, former private secretary to President Roosevelt and later in his cabinet; Lawrence H. Graham, a newspaperman, and George H. Roosevelt, whose father is a cousin of the plaintiff, were read by Attorney Van Benschoten.

The jury awarded Colonel Roosevelt six cents damages without costs.

FINGER-PRINTS NO USE IN VANCOUVER CASE

Thought That Murderer of Constable Archibald Might Be Traced by Them

Vancouver, May 31.—The police will not be able to use the finger-prints left by the looters of the office of the Hastings Shingle Manufacturing Company in tracing down the murderers of Constable Archibald. At first it was thought that the faint fingerprints left on the office blind by one or more of the burglars might lead to their identification, but Detective Anderson, who has charge of the identification department, announced yesterday that he could make nothing of them. The surface of the window blind was so rough that only the faintest outline of the finger-prints could be discerned under the most powerful magnifying glass, and the police will have to look toward other sources for information that will bring the murderers to justice.

No further facts in connection with the murder have come to light, and it is still doubtful whether or not any of the men at present under arrest will be charged with the murder of Constable Archibald.

CHILD KILLED BY ALFONSO'S TRAIN

King of Spain Leaves Car and Takes Dying Child in His Arms

Madrid, May 31.—General Anar, chief of King Alfonso's military household, tells the story of a child being killed at Utrera by the royal train on which the king was travelling yesterday. Two little girls were playing on the track at a grade-crossing, one of them lying alongside the line, apparently asleep, when the train passed. The engine driver did not see the children until he was unable to stop the train in time. King Alfonso looked from the window of his car to ascertain why the train was slowing, and on seeing that one of the children had been struck he jumped from the window of the still-moving train, ran back and took the child in his arms. He was trying to staunch the wounds in the child's head caused by the impact when his suite arrived on the scene.

The king's attendants gave first-aid to the child, but she died in a few minutes. The king was greatly upset by the accident.

REDUCED FREIGHT ON WENATCHEE APPLES

Washington Growers in Strong Position to Compete for Desirable Prairie Trade

Wenatchee, Wash., May 31.—New rates on apples shipped from Wenatchee to Canadian points, copies of which have been received from the Great Northern Railway Company by the transportation committee of the Wenatchee Commercial Club, show a reduction of 20 cents per hundred pounds from Wenatchee to Edmonton and a corresponding reduction to Calgary and Lethbridge.

The rates at the present time from Wenatchee to Sweetgrass, Mont., a junction point with the C. P. R., is 65 cents per hundred pounds. This, added to the new rates quoted by the C. P. R., would put Wenatchee apples in carload lots into Lethbridge for 70 cents per hundred pounds, into Calgary for 87 cents, and into Edmonton for 97 cents per hundred pounds.

The rate last year to Edmonton was $1.17 per hundred pounds, and it will be noted that a very liberal reduction has been made.

Shippers in the Wenatchee valley have been handicapped for a long time in securing reasonable rates to Canadian points, but with these rates and the reduction in rates secured some time ago to the same points for peaches and other summer fruits, local growers are in a strong position to compete for this desirable business.

BREWSTER ELECTED PROVINCIAL LEADER

Unanimous Choice Made by Liberals in Convention
Late Last Night

GREAT DEMONSTRATION FOLLOWS ANNOUNCEMENT

Former Member for Alberni Accepts Honor and Expresses Thanks

SIR WILFRID LAURIE HONORARY PRESIDENT

Revelstoke, B. C., May 31.—Soon after midnight and with every mark of united and enthusiastic action H. C. Brewster was unanimously elected as leader of the British Columbia Liberal party. The election came after the propriety of choosing a leader at this time had been thoroughly canvassed from every point of view. The debate was conducted during the afternoon and evening in the most admirable spirit. This had been the spirit shown all through the convention.

When it was once decided that a leader should be chosen now there was no question who it should be. There have been three names in the minds of all delegates. Those of Mr. Brewster, Ralph Smith and M. A. Macdonald, K. C. It was known that Mr. Macdonald would not accept nomination in opposition to Mr. Brewster, and Mr. Smith took the first opportunity of notifying the convention that he took the same stand. This left the ground clear for the selection of the man whose name had evoked the loudest cheers throughout the convention.

The declaration of Mr. Brewster's unanimous election made by John Oliver, who temporarily took the chair, was the signal for a demonstration of the seven Dominion constituencies, and the following were elected: Victoria—A. B. Fraser, P. W. Dempster, Arthur Wilson, H. W. Davies, H. H. Shandley, Vancouver—Maxwell Smith, P. R. McD. Russell, A. C. W. Enright, J. N. Ellis, George E. McCrossan, Nanaimo—Alex. Forrester (Nanaimo), William Fraser (Ladysmith), P. N. Campbell (Duncan), William Mowat (Salt Spring Island), H. Nunn (Esquimalt), Comox-Atlin—W. P. McPhee (Comox), W. H. B. Prescott (Alberni), H. E. McRae (Prince Rupert), Duncan Ross (Skeena), Capt. Stewart (Richmond), New Westminster—William George, John Oliver, D. B. Martyn, John Reid, H. N. Fraser, Yale-Cariboo—Dr. K. C. McDonald, N. A. McGill, H. P. Horan, Dr. McLean, Isaac Eastwood, Kootenay—R. A. Kimpton (Columbia), Edward Ferguson (Nelson), C. R. McDonald (Revelstoke), Dr. Thom (Trail), A. I. Fisher (Peprie).

Mr. Brewster was greatly touched by the heartiness with which his name had been proposed and seconded, and the cordiality with which the convention had received it. It was some moments before he could command his voice sufficiently to express his thanks to the convention.

Great enthusiasm was aroused when, on the convention reassembling in the afternoon, President Brewster read the following message from Hon. Wm. Templeman, British Columbia's first federal cabinet minister: "The representatives to the convention of the Liberals of British Columbia (Alberni, Comox, Kootenay, Columbia, Vancouver, Nanaimo, Victoria, and Yale-Cariboo) express their hearty congratulations upon the success of their convention and the splendid promise that its members and enthusiasm give of the early success all along the line of principles of Liberalism. The party has but to be true to the task of winning the support of a great majority of the electors of British Columbia. McBride cannot fail the people all the time. You have my best wishes and hearty support in the work you have in hand."

Mr. Oliver and W. S. Taylor, K. C., rose at the same time to nominate Mr. Brewster, the one leader giving way. Mr. Taylor said the man whom he was about to place in nomination was one whose name rang true to the heart of every Liberal, one who had fought the fight of the people and made no mistake. None could raise a finger against him; he had a character above reproach, ability beyond the average, and had been nominated in the capital. By electing him as leader, Liberals would make sure of having at least one man in the next legislature.

John Hart, Victoria, seconded the nomination, and Captain George A. Huff, Alberni, rose for the same purpose. Mr. Ferguson, Cranbrook, nominated M. A. Macdonald, K. C., who, he said, had all the qualities of mind and heart needed in a leader, with tact, energy, ability and eloquence.

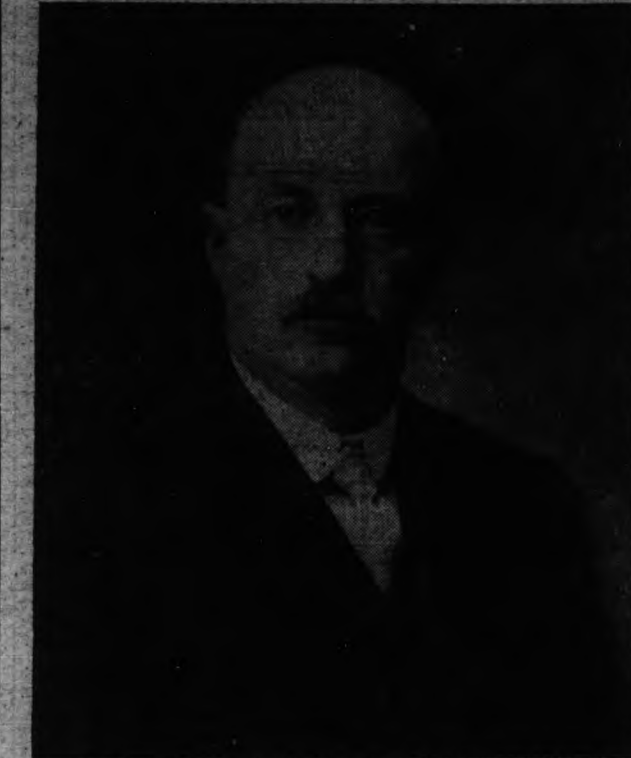

Mr. Macdonald declined to accept nomination against Mr. Brewster, and reminded the convention that having elected a leader there should be a covenant between them. There would be no doubt that Mr. Brewster would fulfill his part of it. Liberals on their part must do their share of the work in the constituencies.

Ralph Smith, who has been mentioned several times as a possible leader both before the convention and since it opened, addressed the delegates late at night. He told the convention definitely that he would not be a candidate for the leadership, and gave it as his opinion that the proper thing to do was for the convention to appoint a leader. He cited the example of Ontario, where the appointment of an active leader had revived the party.

Mr. Oliver, in declaring Mr. Brewster elected, recalled that he had never met the leader until after that gentleman had been elected at a bye election in Alberni, defeating a cabinet minister.

The leader, when the tumult of cheers had subsided, expressed his sense of the honor conferred upon him

FIVE MEMBERS PUT ON EACH EXECUTIVE

Convention Increases Number for Each of Seven Provin- cial Constituencies

Revelstoke, May 31.—It was decided at the Liberal convention last night that the executive committee should be enlarged to five members for each of the seven Dominion constituencies, and the following were elected: Victoria—A. B. Fraser, P. W. Dempster, Arthur Wilson, H. W. Davies, H. H. Shandley, Vancouver—Maxwell Smith, P. R. McD. Russell, A. C. W. Enright, J. N. Ellis, George E. McCrossan, Nanaimo—Alex. Forrester (Nanaimo), William Fraser (Ladysmith), P. N. Campbell (Duncan), William Mowat (Salt Spring Island), H. Nunn (Esquimalt), Comox-Atlin—W. P. McPhee (Comox), W. H. B. Prescott (Alberni), H. E. McRae (Prince Rupert), Duncan Ross (Skeena), Capt. Stewart (Richmond), New Westminster—William George, John Oliver, D. B. Martyn, John Reid, H. N. Fraser, Yale-Cariboo—Dr. K. C. McDonald, N. A. McGill, H. P. Horan, Dr. McLean, Isaac Eastwood, Kootenay—R. A. Kimpton (Columbia), Edward Ferguson (Nelson), C. R. McDonald (Revelstoke), Dr. Thom (Trail), A. I. Fisher (Peprie).

and the duties and responsibilities it entailed.

The election of officers was then proceeded with, Sir Wilfrid Laurie being again named as honorary president. M. A. Macdonald was the only nomination for president, his name being proposed by Joshua Kingham and John Oliver. Ralph Smith was elected first vice-president, on motion of George Bell and E. A. Woodward; Dr. J. H. King, Cranbrook, second vice-president; A. M. Pond, South Vancouver, treasurer; Charles E. Campbell, Vancouver, recording secretary.

The debate on the Japanese treaty resolution was resumed by Duncan Ross prior to the election of officers. He made it clear to the convention that by Canada's adherence to the Anglo-Japanese treaty as given through the Borden government, the Japanese secure equal rights and privileges to Canadian citizens. All a Japanese has to do now, Mr. Ross pointed out, was to become naturalized, when he could with right under the Borden acceptance of the treaty, claim his franchise municipally, provincially and federally. But the action of the government went further than that; a Liberal member had asked Mr. Borden if he knew of provincial laws that would be affected by the adoption of the treaty? Mr. Borden said he knew of none; the result was that British Columbia was prevented from passing any legislation curbing Japanese aggression in this province.

Capt. Worsnip reminded the convention that in Japan no Britisher could hold land as an owner, and he strongly supported the proposition that no alien should be allowed to hold land in British Columbia. The convention endorsed this resolution as well as resolution submitted by the committee on the Bank Act, land registry system and the treatment of released prisoners, and then passed a hearty vote of thanks to the committee on the motion of Joshua Kingham.

Rev. A. B. Smith treated the convention to an eloquent address pointing out the need for improvement in the management of public affairs, and the great opportunities presented to the party which espouses the cause of the people, and gives them the laws they should have, but not always what they would have.

WOMEN'S POLITICAL UNION IS RECEIVED

Delegates to Revelstoke Con- vention Guests at Smoking Concert Last Night

Revelstoke, May 31.—When the convention reassembled yesterday afternoon a delegation of twelve ladies, members of the British Columbia Women's Political Union, was received. The speakers for the delegation were Mrs. Sturdy, Revelstoke; Mrs. H. H. Collier, Revelstoke; and Mrs. J. C. Egan, Vancouver.

They were courteously and cordially received by the convention, which sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," as they retired.

A very pleasant hour and a half was spent by the delegates last night as the guests of the Revelstoke Liberal Association, when the convention resolved itself into a smoking concert. Dr. Sutherland, as president of the association, took the chair and an excellent musical programme was tendered by the Revelstoke band and a number of singers. F. T. Congdon and W. W. Baer made short humorous speeches. The hosts were thanked by Mr. Brewster.

The cost delegates leave for home this evening.

Options were expressed for and against the principles, the Victoria delegation taking an active share. In view of the general lack of apprehension of the idea of proportional representation it was decided that the whole question brought up by Dr. Wolverson should be offered to a committee for careful consideration and report next year, the committee consisting of Dr. Wolverson, chairman, E. S. Woodward, W. W. Baer, J. W. DeB. Farris and S. Appleby. The platform plank dealing with timber was reaffirmed on motion of F. A. Pauline, Saanich, after a discussion. On the motion of George Bell, Victoria, the convention stands by the existing plank reading: "We are in an age of the minimum wage. The eight hour day and six day week on all public and government aided work."

Among those taking part in the discussion were E. S. Woodward, Victoria; A. H. Nutt, Esquimalt; W. W. Rhodes, Tofoam. Several proposals were made for alteration of the phrasing, an object of all the speakers being the extension of the principle of eight hours as a legal day's work, but these were rejected or withdrawn.

On the motion of John Oliver and Duncan Ross the principle contained in the following resolution was ordered to be put in form in the platform: "We regret the failure of the McBride government to make accessible the agricultural lands of the province by the construction of roads, trails and bridges, and if empowered we will utilize as far as practicable the resources of the province in developing and making accessible the agricultural and other lands and natural wealth of the province by roads or water communication where necessary."

Duncan Ross presented the report of the committee, and moved that it be instructed to prepare and present a condensed and emphatic platform which was ordered to be done. George Bell gave notice of a resolution regretting the taking from municipalities of the last vestige of local option in liquor matters by the recent

FORCE NEAR COLUMBIA HAVE OWN GOVERNMENT

Chihuahua City, Mex., May 31.—General Samuel R. Mercado, recently recalled from Parral, to-day was appointed military governor of Chihuahua State. He succeeds General Antonio Rabago, who has been called to Mexico City.

Colonel Romero with 1,800 federals is marching south in an effort to restore rail and wire communication along the Mexican Central railway as far as Torreon. In a fight with the insurgents under Villa, Herrera and Hernandez at Saucillo, the government reports 25 rebels killed and several taken prisoner. The Constitutionalists are concentrated at Santa Rosalia, while the government troops are engaged in repairing burned bridges on Conchos. The government column is carrying several pieces of heavy artillery. The insurgent strength is estimated at 1,400 well-mounted but poorly-armed men, with no heavy artillery.

Laredo, Tex., May 31.—Federal forces numbering 250 men surprised nearly 200 Carranzistas at Laredo, 25 miles above Laredo, to-day. They poured in upon the rebels a deadly fire from machine guns, killing twenty-five men and wounding many others.

The rebel force, which has been stationed near Columbia for months, conducted a government of their own, collecting customs duties on cattle. Federal forces under command of Col. Gerónimo Villareal, left Nuevo Laredo last night for Columbia, arriving at 7 o'clock this morning before the rebels realized the federal were in the vicinity. The rebels soon became demoralized and fled. Twenty of them crossed the Rio Grande at Minerva and were arrested by the American patrol.

MEXICO WAITING FOR ITS ELECTION DECREE

Many Believe That Felix Diaz, Only Candidate Now Announced Cannot Win

Mexico City, May 31.—No intimation has yet been given by Provisional President Huerta as to when he will issue the decree calling a presidential election. It is considered certain that he will not delay for long the formality of issuing an official call, as both houses of congress have passed a measure fixing October 28 as the date.

General Felix Diaz is the only candidate who has frankly entered his name for the election, but it is regarded as probable that he will be met by the opposition of Manuel Calles, former Mexican ambassador at Washington, and possibly of Francisco de la Barrera, minister of foreign affairs, as the representative of the Catholic party.

The tone of a large part of the press and the expressions of opinion of many people, including numerous friends of Felix Diaz, indicate that his popularity has waned and that there is little chance of his election.

JAPANESE SENTIMENT IS FOR RECOGNITION

Many Years' Resident Thinks
United States Has Stirred
Up Hornet's Nest

SIMILAR POSITION AS BEFORE RUSSIAN WAR

Vancouver, May 31.—There can be no doubt as to the united sentiment of the Japanese people that they will insist upon recognition of their national rights by the United States," said P. King, of Yokohama last night before he left for the East on his way to London. "I have lived in Japan for many years, and I think I know the sentiment of the people of that country. There can be no doubt about it, that Uncle Sam has stirred up a hornet's nest, which will take all his ingenuity to put in order; in the raising of the race issue, by the discrimination against the Japanese in the state of California. It is not a question for the governments to settle, it has gone far past that in Japan.

"People are aroused just as they were before the Russo-Japanese war, and I would not be surprised at anything happening. The Americans must be on their guard. Japan is better prepared for action than most people think, and we who know the sentiment of the people are alarmed at the outlook. Diplomats may declare there is no danger, but they said the same thing before the attack on the Caesar's fleet at Port Arthur. Then public sentiment forced war. History may repeat itself."

Mr. King admitted that the English business men interested in Japan were alarmed at the outlook. In fact, he intimated that his present journey was to consult his principals as to the course of action to be pursued in the event of possible contingencies.

"The British nation is, of course, popular in Japan, by reason of the treaty of alliance. I have wondered, when in Australia, where I learned the anti-Japanese sentiment, and again in Canada, in the few hours I have been here, how long this would continue if there were demonstrations of sympathy with the United States in Australia, New Zealand and British Columbia, if the worst should come to the worst."

"It is a very delicate situation, and one which will tax all the ingenuity of the diplomats. Let us hope that they will succeed, but their success can only be secured by a backing down by the United States."

COMMISSION HEARS ROMANTIC CLAIMS

Large Sum on Account for Ship Lord Nelson Extending Over 102 Years

BRITISHERS' ACCOUNT

TOTALS $2,966,000

Washington, D. C., May 31.—Under the lengthy statistical arguments being presented to the American-British arbitration commission, there are several romantic and interesting stories of claims, some of which date back over a century.

One of these is that of the British ship Lord Nelson, which was seized on the Great Lakes by the United States two weeks prior to the outbreak of the war of 1812. The United States courts later decided that the seizure was illegal. In the meantime the United States had sold the ship for $2,000, and the money was paid over to a court. When the owners of the Lord Nelson got their decision that the seizure was illegal, and asked for their money it was found that an employee of the court had disappeared, and so had the $2,000 from the possession of the court; so the owners of the Lord Nelson got nothing. The claim is 102 years old, and is for 4 per cent. interest in addition to the $2,000, so it will run into a pretty sum.

Another case to come before the arbitral tribunal is one connected with the Cayuga Indians. These Indians granted lands to the United States in 1785, now known as Cayuga county, N. Y., for a perpetual annuity of $2,000. The Cayuga Indians, with the exception of a few, moved into Canada, where they are now located, and called the Cayuga nation. In the war of 1812 they joined the British against the United States, and America cut off the payment of the annuity to the Canadian Cayugas, so their heirs are now asking the arbitral tribunal for it, with 4 per cent. interest, and it is expected the claim will amount to about $250,000.

One case with another queer twist to it involves the shooting of a woman. A Miss Haydenhead, a Canadian, a few years ago visited for some time in Michigan, where United States troops were encamped. A deserter ducked past a sentinel, and was called upon to halt. He did not heed the warning, and the sentinel fired. The bullet struck Miss Haydenhead, who was passing at that moment, and killed her, and her heirs are suing the United States government for damages.

One case that came up against Canada is that of Samuel Clark's heirs. He was an American who bought some Canadian land from Joseph Brant, the Indian leader, who was said at the time to have been authorized by the Canadian government to sell the land. The Canadian government, however, refused to ratify the sale. Clark long since died, and his heirs are now suing the Canadian government for damages.

Some time during the eighties a number of exporters from Canada shipped quantities of baled hay into this country. The United States customs inspectors at the border held the baled hay to be a manufactured article. They exacted a duty of 20 per cent, and collected it. The United States courts later decided that baled hay is not a manufactured article, and was subject to a duty of only 10 per cent. A claim has been filed with arbitral tribunal for the amount of duty paid and interest.

The claims of British subjects against the United States total $2,966,000, while the American claims against Great Britain aggregate $4,333,000.

Henri M. Formageot, of France, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice of the Dominion of Canada, and Chandler F. Anderson, former counselor of the United States department of state, are the commissioners. DIPLOMAT LEAVES DIFFICULT POST

SIR GERALD LOWTHER'S DRAMATIC EXPERIENCE

Played a Prominent Part in the Delicate and Complicated Diplomacy of the Near East

London, May 31.—The resignation of Sir Gerald Lowther, British ambassador at Constantinople, has caused no surprise in diplomatic and other quarters, where it had been expected for some time past.

Sir Gerald has been in ill-health for some considerable time, and would have resigned his post long ago had it not been for the situation brought about by the Turco-Balkan war, and his presence at Constantinople was, for British interests, of supreme importance.

Sir Gerald's Career.
Sir Gerald Lowther, like his brother, the Speaker, had the advantage of something better than birth: he was the inheritor of a family tradition which was a blend of all the public and administrative virtues.

It fell to the Speaker to play the coachman to the oldest and most difficult parliamentary team in the world; but it fell to his brother Gerald to undertake some of the most responsible diplomatic work of the past generation.

Sir Gerald was born in 1858, and entered the circles of British diplomacy in 1879, having been educated at Harrow and come through with distinction.

In turn he served in Madrid, Paris, Constantinople, Vienna, Sofia, Bucharest, Tokio, Budapest; became secretary of embassy in Washington and envoy plenipotentiary and minister plenipotentiary for Chile, 1901-4. In the latter year he was appointed British minister at Tangier, and held the post—a difficult one at that period—for four years. It was in 1908 that he was sent to Constantinople as ambassador.

Sir Gerald married, in 1905, Alice, daughter of Mr. Atherton Blight, of Philadelphia.

The Balance of Influence.
The most exacting and dogmatic period in this record of service was the term he has just concluded at Constantinople, for when Sir Gerald went there in 1908 the Ottoman Empire was fast shaping for the revolution which has had such influences on the dynamic map of European affairs.

In those days the dominant figure in the corps diplomatique upon the Bosphorus was the late Baron Marshall von Biersstein, and the recent tributes to the Baron's character and influence are a sufficient reminder of the prestige which Germany has gained upon the ruling councils of Turkish affairs.

The Turkish Upheaval.
The Baron had figured with dignity and weight at the second Hague conference, and brought away from it an enormously enhanced prestige, which decided Turkey enormously in his favor.

It was the Agadir coup and other measures which undermined that influence of his and restored the balance of Turkish confidence towards England. In this restoration of a right proportion, Sir Gerald's experience and tact were an inestimable factor, and it was the sense of possessing so strong and quiet a representative upon the spot that afforded us reassurance in a momentous and difficult time.

Sir Gerald held aloof from both extremes, the Young Turks and the reactionaries, and this at times when impartiality must have been difficult indeed.

The Reward of Hard Service.

At the present moment it may be said that Sir Gerald has done his work, or done so far as any foreign influence may go. Certain it is that the anxieties and crises of the past five years have told heavily upon Sir Gerald's health, and it is not to be wondered at that he seeks a well-earned rest.

To the enjoyment of the leisure which now accrues to him every good wish on the part of his grateful countrymen must tend, and no member of the British diplomatic service returns with deeper claims or a more unostentatious record.

TWO MEN PREVENT GANGWAY FALLING

Repetition of Colman Dock Accident Averted at Tacoma Yesterday

Tacoma, May 31.—Repetition of the Colman dock accident in Seattle last summer, though on a small scale, was prevented here yesterday by the physical strength of two men whose names were not learned. As a church picnic party was boarding the steamer Atlanta at the municipal dock, the chains on one side of the outer end of the gangplank slipped. The gangplank instantly fell to a dangerous angle toward the water and the excursionists began slipping.

Two men at the end of the plank grasped the railings. The excursionists piled down on them but the men retained their grip on the railings by sheer strength and prevented the crowd from tumbling into the bay.

The infant child of Mrs. Anna Stone, wife of J. E. Stone, a prominent resident of Bismarck, was caught in the crush and hurt, but how badly has not yet been ascertained. Employees of the dock rescued the excursionists from their plight.

Summer Cooking

Which is best? A coal that gets to work slowly, needs constant poking, keeps you standing over your stove on hot Summer afternoons, and then burns all the evenings, or a coal that lights at once, gets the oven hot in a few moments, burns brightly with a clear flame, needs no attention, does your cooking in half the time and leaves you free to enjoy the twilight hours?

If you want a coal which fulfils all the latter functions you need our Nut Coal. It's the perfect Summer coal, and it costs you less.

PEACE TERMS NOW SIGNED IN LONDON

Agreement Contains Seven
Clauses Agreed to Yesterday

COMMISSION DEALS WITH FINANCIAL END

London, May 30.—In addition to Sir Edward Grey, British foreign secretary, there were present at the signing of peace in London yesterday: Osman Nizam Pasha, for Turkey; Dr. Daneff, for Bulgaria; Stefan Nezakovich, for Serbia; Stephanos Skoloudis, for Greece; and M. Popovitch, for Montenegro.

The treaty as signed is as follows: His Imperial Majesty the Sultan of Turkey of the one part, his Majesty the King of the Hellenes, his Majesty the King of Bulgaria, his Majesty the King of Serbia, and his Majesty the King of Montenegro of the other part, in their wish to bring the present state of hostilities to an end, and in their wish to re-establish peaceful and friendly relations between their governments and subjects, respectively, have decided to sign a treaty of peace, and have nominated their plenipotentiaries.

The plenipotentiaries having duly exchanged their credentials, and these being found satisfactory, have agreed that:

Art. I.—There will be, from the day on which this treaty shall be signed, peace and friendly relations between His Imperial Majesty the Sultan of Turkey, of the one part, and their Majesties the Sovereigns of the allied Balkan states, of the other part, as well as between their heirs and successors, their governments and subjects respectively in perpetuity.

Art. II.—His Imperial Majesty the Sultan of Turkey gives up to their Majesties the Sovereigns of the allied Balkan states all the territories of his Empire in Europe situated west of a line extending from Enos, on the Aegean Sea, to Midia, on the Black Sea, excepting Albania. The exact settlement of this line from Enos to Midia, shall be carried out by a commission. (This has still to be nominated and inserted in this treaty.)

Art. III.—His Imperial Majesty the Sultan of Turkey and their Majesties the Sovereigns of the allied Balkan states agree to leave in the hands of his Majesty the Emperor of Germany, King of Hungary, the President of the French Republic, his Majesty the King of Great Britain and Ireland, Emperor of India, his Majesty the King of Italy, and his Majesty the Emperor of Russia, the settlement of all questions relating to Albania.

Art. IV.—His Imperial Majesty the Sultan of Turkey agrees to hand over to the Sovereigns of the allied Balkan states the Island of Crete and to abandon in their favor all his rights of sovereignty over that island.

Art. V.—His Imperial Majesty the Sultan of Turkey agrees and their Majesties the Sovereigns of the allied states agree to entrust to the powers the duties of settling the fate of all the Ottoman Islands of the Aegean Sea (excepting Crete) and the fate of the peninsula of Mount Athos.

Art. VI.—His Imperial Majesty the Sultan of Turkey and their Majesties the Sovereigns of the allied states agree to leave all financial questions arising out of the war and the aforesaid territorial concessions to the international commission summoned in Paris, to which they have sent their delegates.

Art. VII.—All questions relating to prisoners of war, of jurisdiction, nationality and trade to be settled by special conventions.

The only armistice feature of the historic occasion was M. Popovitch's expression of keen disappointment that Montenegro had "been despoiled of her just share of the spoils of a triumphant war. We have signed the preliminary treaty," he said, "because nothing else remained for us to do. We are glad to have peace, but are profoundly dissatisfied with the terms we have been obliged to accept. We have been despoiled of the fruits of our victories. We have been made the whip of Europe. Great Britain took the leading part in depriving us of Scutari. We look to her to secure a modification of the Albanian frontier so as to give us lands for cultivation and a natural route between Podgoritz and Ipek."

The actual ceremony was brief. The delegates signed the treaty without reviewing it, evidently in a full confidence that the seven articles were in much reading as the powers chose to have them.

The Bulgarian delegate proposed that peace become immediately effective without ratifications of the treaty. This proposal was rejected, and the delegates then left, after having agreed to meet on June 2 to consider the advisability of an eventual annexed protocol.

After informing the ambassadorial conference of the signing of the peace draft, Sir Edward Grey suggested that the conference limit its discussion to three questions: a constitution for Albania, the delimitation of the southern frontier of Albania, and the status of the Aegean Islands. The ambassadors are now awaiting further instructions from their governments regarding a constitution for Albania, but the conference is working in greater harmony and expects to conclude its labors by the end of June.

The relations between the Balkan allies show a distinct improvement. The proposed meeting between the Bulgarian and Serbian premiers is now definitely fixed to take place on the frontier to-morrow evening. The latest suggestion for a settlement of the quarrel between the two countries is that Serbia and Bulgaria denounce the old treaties and conclude a new alliance providing for a joint administration of Macedonia.

SCOTTISH HOME RULE HAS SECOND READING

Provides Establishment of Single Chamber Parliament Subordinate to Imperial

PROVIDE FOR HUNDRED AND FORTY MEMBERS

London, May 31.—The Scottish home rule bill passed its second reading in the House yesterday and was then referred to a committee.

It follows somewhat on the line of the Irish home rule bill, and was introduced by William Henry Cowan, the member from East Aberdeenshire.

"Now that Ireland is in a fair way to secure self-government, the Scottish Liberal members have taken up more seriously the question of securing home rule for their country. A committee of three members of the House drafted a bill, which was read a second time. It is not thought likely that it will go very far this session, but the Scottish Liberals are determined to show, if they can, that the movement is a live one.

As described by Mr. Cowan, the bill represents a further development of the policy of devolution initiated by the government. It provides (herein differing from the Irish bill) for the establishment in Scotland of a single chamber parliament, subordinate to the Imperial parliament, and consisting of 140 members representing the existing constituencies and returned by parliamentary electors, with the addition of peers.

The representation of Scotland in the House of Commons will continue as at present until separate provision has been made for devolution in England and Wales, when the representation of the component parts of Great Britain in the parliament of the United Kingdom is to be reconsidered and readjusted. The powers given by the bill to the Scottish parliament include all those conferred in the Irish parliament, except the control of the post office and the power to vary customs and excise, but with the addition of the administration of the old age pensions, national insurance and the labor exchanges.

The executive, however, it is proposed, shall continue vested in the king, who is to be represented in Scotland by a lord high commissioner, advised by members of a privy council.

The powers of varying Imperial taxes, except customs and excise, is by the bill to be conferred upon the Scottish parliament, which is in addition to have the exclusive power of levying the existing Imperial taxes on heritable property in Scotland. Provision is made for the payment by the Imperial exchequer to the Scottish exchequer out of the proceeds of the Scottish taxes of a sum toward defraying the cost of the Scottish services.

A joint exchequer board is to be established to determine all questions arising out of the financial provisions.

The judicial committee of the Privy Council is, by the bill, substituted for the House of Lords as the final court of appeal, and all constitutional questions are to be determined by that tribunal.

Berlin, May 3.—The Oppenheim excavation and discovery expedition in central Mesopotamia has unearthed a number of interesting treasures during the last few months. Among the most remarkable discoveries is a palace of large dimensions.

Its inner court is some 30 yards square, and is surrounded by a double row of rooms. A quantity of artistically worked door hinges and stones, as well as drains and ovens in which to make charcoal by fire and an enormous number of water vessels and other receptacles, were also brought to light.

DON'T NEGLECT MAKING YOUR WILL ANOTHER DAY

You can do it Yourself for 35c.

Certainly one of the most sacred duties you can perform for your family is that of making your will. Every day in every paper you take up you read of deaths due to accidents, heart failure, etc., and in too many cases the deceased has made no provision by will for his family. Whether he has little or much money, many cases it goes to just those people who would be the last ones he might wish to receive it.

Do not be so foolish as this. Whether you have merely a few trinkets or a large estate you have some definite desire as to who should receive them, and as long as it only costs 35 cents to have this desire legally carried out it is certainly worth while attending to it. Make sure that your wishes will be carried out. Get the Bax Will Form to-day. In form days the making of a will was rather a formidable task. The lawyer had to be consulted; who demanded a more or less expensive fee. Often the very feeling of reluctance that many people entertain for any legal proceedings causes them to put off making their will.

There is no reason for this now. In your own home without the aid of a lawyer you can make your will and have it perfectly legal and binding. The Bax Will Form has been tested and found unbreakable in the best courts in the land. Send 35c. and you will obtain the Bax Legal Will Form, sample will and full directions how to fill it out without an error. Get it from your Druggist or Stationer, or send stamps or coin to the Bax Will Form Co., Room 194, 230 College St., Toronto.

During the excavations made with a view to tracing the walls of the city and castle, a cell was discovered. In it was a statue of a man standing, as well as a statue representing a man and a woman sculptured in basalt, and in excellent condition. A number of basalt statues were also found, as well as pearls and other interesting and valuable articles.

PRESIDENT WILSON OUT ON GOLF LINKS AGAIN

Washington, D. C., May 31.—President Wilson played his first game of golf to-day in several months. He went to the Washington suburban Country Club, across the Potomac in Virginia with Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N., his physician. With the exception of long walks, it was the first real outdoor exercise he has taken since he came to the White House. He had not played golf since last September at Seagirt, N. J. The president planned to take a motor ride in the afternoon or to drop in at the ball game. He had no engagements for the day.

REDISTRIBUTION.

It is announced from Ottawa that an early session of parliament will be called mainly for the purpose of passing a redistribution bill, after which there will be a dissolution and an appeal to the country, the election taking place in November or December. We doubt very much if Mr. Borden has made up his mind on this point, but whether an election is held this year or not, he would scarcely dare to go to the country without giving to the west the additional representation to which it is entitled. Since 1911 the government has been in possession of the data upon which to base a redistribution measure, and this should have been passed in the session now drawing to a close. The four western provinces are now seriously under-represented, and the administration would be guilty of gross unfairness and discrimination if another appeal were held without a readjustment.

Here are the figures showing the basis upon which the four western provinces are represented in this House:

	Inhabitants.
British Columbia has one member for each.....	66,068
Alberta has one member for each.....	53,532
Saskatchewan has one member for each.....	49,243
Manitoba has one member for each.....	45,461
Average.....	49,739

And here are the figures for the eastern provinces:

	Inhabitants.
Ontario has one member for each.....	29,340
Quebec has one member for each.....	30,810
New Brunswick has one member for each.....	37,068
Nova Scotia has one member for each.....	27,352
Prince Edward Island has one member for each.....	23,432
Average.....	29,576

Thus we see that the average member from the western provinces represents more than 20,000 more people than does the average member from the eastern provinces.

The ratio of representation is fixed by the province of Quebec with its stationary sixty-five. Under the census of 1910 this allows one member for approximately every 30,800 people. The redistribution would, therefore, work out along the following lines:

Ontario.....	81
Quebec.....	65
Saskatchewan.....	15
Nova Scotia.....	15
Manitoba.....	14
British Columbia.....	12
Alberta.....	11
New Brunswick.....	11
Prince Edward Island.....	3
Yukon.....	1

Of course, if latitude is exercised in working out the proportions, some of the provinces may receive one more member than is set down above. On the basis of the figures given, Ontario would lose five members, Nova Scotia, three, New Brunswick two and Prince Edward Island one. British Columbia would gain five, Alberta five, Saskatchewan five and Manitoba four. In other words, the provinces east of the Great Lakes would collectively lose eleven members and the western provinces would gain nineteen. Some of the Ontario rural districts will suffer, but cities like Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver will materially gain in representation.

The representation of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan will undergo another overhauling after 1915, when the quinquennial census required under the acts admitting the two newer provinces to the union will take place. We believe a similar provision should be inserted in the constitution with reference to this province. We should have a five-year census and redistribution simultaneously with our sister provinces west of the lakes.

The increase in our population in the next few years promises to be very large, and delaying another readjustment until after a decennial census would deprive thousands of representation.

MILITANT LIBERALISM.

The spirit of the Liberals assembled in convention at Revelstoke indicates that while the fortunes of the party, as fortune is indicated by representation in legislatures, are at a low ebb, the courage, determination and enthusiasm for the cause and the principles which have been at the back of all true progress in Great Britain, in Canada and in the provinces of this Dominion are more pronounced than ever in the party. There is more than a fighting remnant left around the banner, although not a single finger, thanks to the efficiency of the McBride-Bowser machine, is lifted up in either legislature to indicate the straight and narrow path of real progress and permanent prosperity and not a single voice is raised in criticism of acts of administration and of policy which time will prove to have been worthy of severe condemnation. But it is not necessary to argue that the strength of Liberalism in the legislature is no true index to the strength of Liberalism in the electorate. The conditions prevailing to-day are not likely to endure beyond the term of the existing legislature notwithstanding the very adroit and skilful measures that have been taken to prevent a real expression of public opinion at the polls.

The discussions at the Revelstoke convention and the resolutions passed contain strong evidence that it would have been well for the future of the province had there been in the legislature a body of such strong men as there expressed their views. The McBride administration is supported by an all but unanimous legislature, but there is not a single individual in the province capable of disinterested judgment but must confess that the ministerial following is woefully weak in every essential men should possess in order to render real service to the public in a deliberative assembly. The government has been lucky. It came into power when the fortunes of the province were at the very lowest ebb, but just when the tide was turning. It has therefore got credit for accomplishments in which it had about as much to do as the man in the moon. It will be found out in due course. Many of the acts now so enthusiastically lauded by its subsidized organs will rise up in judgment against it. Therefore it is well that Liberals should keep their organization in form and their forces in order against the not distant day when a real test will be applied.

The unanimous choice of Mr. H. C. Brewster of Victoria as leader of the Liberals of British Columbia was one of the most important acts of the convention. From the point of view of the citizen who places country above party, the personality of a leader is possibly of more importance than declarations of principles. There is not a man in the public life of British Columbia to-day, or in private life either, who ranks higher in the esteem of the people than Mr. Brewster. He stands for everything that is best in citizenship. Neither a poseur nor a politician in the sense to which politics have been reduced in this province, there is a depth, sincerity and earnestness in his character that invite confidence and inspire admiration. We believe the Liberal convention honored the party and did a signal service to the province when it unanimously selected Mr. Brewster as leader.

LIGHTNING CHANGE ARTISTS

There is something missing from the political jubilation occasioned by the return of Messrs. Barnard and Green from the national capital. There is scarcely more than a solitary reference by them in speech or interview to the necessity for early naval protection for this coast. They expatiated at great length upon the progress and prospects of this province, and with lavish wealth of detail outlined what the government proposed to do for our ports in the way of public works. But we heard no protest against the abandonment of those measures initiated by the late government looking to the protection of this coast. Do they think that a contribution of three ships to be stationed at Gibraltar, twenty-three days' sail away, is an adequate safeguard for the rapidly growing interests arrayed along our seaboard? Do they subscribe to Mr. Borden's dictum that a fleet unit would be ineffective here or the opinion of the Montreal Star that a "fleet unit might as well be sent to the moon as to British Columbia?" What has become of those trenchant demands for ships of war on the Canadian Pacific coast? Hear Mr. Barnard in the House of Commons on February 24, 1910:

"I think that the proper course for them to have adopted was to have placed that fleet unit on the Pacific Coast. That was what the admiralty, who were the best judges of the situation, asked for. Then, if the government had come to the conclusion that it was necessary to defend the Atlantic coast with another fleet unit

Now Mr. Barnard prefers a flying squadron stationed at Gibraltar. Incidentally this quotation comes into conflict with the statement of our contemporary, which declares that the admiralty in 1909 decided that a contribution was the best policy to adopt in the interest of the empire. Let us again quote Mr. Barnard, this time from an interview given to the morning paper on December 22, 1910:

"On the Pacific Coast, where we have for our neighbors Russia, China and Japan, when we have in these countries a vast humanity seething in the formation of a new civilization, it would be folly to say that danger of war is not to be apprehended in that quarter. The admiralty saw the danger and recommended as a provision against it that Canada should construct a fleet unit and station it on the Pacific. Sir Wilfrid Laurier saw the danger. What steps does he take to meet it? Does he provide for a fleet unit? The essential fighting ship is absent. He provides cruisers which could not hope to stand up against a modern battleship."

Again Mr. Barnard disagrees with our contemporary, which in its effort to show that the best policy for Canada to adopt is one of contributions declares that the admiralty in 1909 did not say what Mr. Barnard in this interview said it did. As usual, the morning paper is wrong, but the point is insignificant. The outstanding fact is that in 1910, Mr. Barnard advocated a fleet unit stationed on the Pacific, and when Sir Wilfrid Laurier offered this as an alternative to Mr. Borden's contribution Mr. Barnard and the other British Columbia members voted against it. At that time Sir Richard McBride also strongly supported the fleet unit proposal. He also wanted Dreadnoughts on the Pacific to provide "insurance on our immense interests on this coast." He moved a resolution in the legislature demanding an immediate safeguard of this nature and vehemently declared that "no policy would be satisfactory to British Columbia which did not provide early protection for the Pacific Coast." And now these gentlemen for partisan purposes have swallowed the principles they then enunciated and contemplate with strange and dangerous equanimity the exposure of our cities to attacks from foreign cruisers should war unhappily break out on this coast.

An ear-marked dispatch to the morning paper states that the Liberals are establishing a "corruption" fund for the approaching election. We can easily understand the Rogers junta sending out rubbish like that, but we are astonished that a newspaper should give prominence to it. How the virtuous soul of Bob Rogers must grieve at even the bare suggestion of campaign funds!

No fear of the Borden government reforming the Senate. There are two things in the world that will not mix. They are Toryism and reform. The one particular curse of the former is the latter.

CITY CLERK OBJECTS.

Wants More Space for Private Office; Mayor Morley Retorts.

City Clerk Dowler wrote a letter to the council last night objecting to the fact that in the new adjustment of his office he was given a very small space for his private office. He complained that he had not been consulted in the rearrangement of his office and said that as the head of the department he felt that he was entitled to more space than was being allotted him.

Mayor Morley told him that the office was not being rearranged to suit his comfort but to facilitate the management of the department. He also stated that it was possible that an act of God might some day remove Mr. Dowler from the office of city clerk.

LAST DAY FOR TAXES.

Crowding Was Severe in Treasurer's Office Because of Half Day.

There were never fewer than 100 persons in line in the city treasurer's office this morning paying the improvement tax for which this is the last day before interest will be added on. The clerks taking in the money put in the busiest morning of their careers. At that the amount paid in before the last day was fairly satisfactory according to City Treasurer Smith. The fact that this was Saturday, a half-day made the crowding seem worse than ordinary.

Choir Concert.—A concert in aid of the organ fund will be given by the organist and choir of the Metropolitan Methodist church on Tuesday next in the Metropolitan church at 8.15.

June Records Famous Columbia Double-Discs Are Ready Now

The New List Includes First Records by CHAUNCEY OLCOTT, Now Singing Exclusively for the Columbia. Don't Miss These!

The Olcott Records will be another surprise, and one that will gladden the hearts of the millions of admirers of the most popular Irish tenor that ever trod the boards in this country. Mr. Olcott's singing appeals irresistibly to the Irish temperament, and almost equally to all who like to hear a good ballad well sung. It is his polish and finish of style quite as much as the natural beauty of his voice that has gained for Mr. Olcott such a universal following. The numbers he has recorded for the Columbia are among the best in his repertoire. They include, as it is almost unnecessary to state, the famous ballads, "My Wild Irish Rose," "Molly O," "Sweet Inniscara" and practically all of the real hits of his early stage successes, as well as the hit of his present production, in which he was seen in Victoria recently—"When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

Pianoforte solos by the distinguished Scharwenka; premier recordings under the direction of Felix Weingartner, world-renowned conductor (a brand new feature in recording affairs); two more double-discs by Bonci; concert numbers by Craig Campbell and Andrea Sarto; latest ragtime by Collins and Harlan; two new ballads by Manuel Romain, and a host of other good things are also included in the June list. Get your orders in early to insure quick delivery. Remember, we carry the largest Record Stock in Western Canada.

FORCING TRANSFER TO

LIQUID FUEL BURNERS

Canadian Pacific Vessels, Which Still Utilize Coal,
Bunker on Sound

In common with other steamship interests, the shipping of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has been badly affected by the strike in the coal mines of the island, and those vessels which are still burning coal have been obliged to acquire it at Seattle. In fact, there would have been a serious tie-up in the ferry connections except for the conversion of the larger into liquid fuel burners.

The Princess Royal and Princess Mary are being supplied in Vancouver and here, it is not being possible to spare them to go across to the S. end, while the Princess Ena and Tees have both bunkered on Puget Sound. The Princess Beatrice is the other coal burner in the British Columbia coast service. All find the American coal greatly inferior to the products of the Vancouver Island mines. More men are required in the stoke holds than is the case when local coal is supplying the furnaces.

A great deal of the bunkering trade has been lost to Union Bay, and other points through the strike, and it is freely stated in the Washington and Oregon newspapers that firms which were in the habit of buying British Columbia coal are abandoning it for American products. It is inevitable that these industrial disputes will more than ever lead to the transformation to liquid fuel, which will judiciously affect the market of the Vancouver Island mines, and lead to the use of California oil in preference to a product of the island secured only 70 miles away.

MARINE NOTES

When the Tees gets away for the west coast tomorrow she will take the short trip, returning in time to make another journey on the long coast to Quatsino Sound on June 5. This is two days earlier than the usual second run of the month, and the third sailing will be accelerated two days, bringing it June 13 instead of June 15. No change will be made in the last journey of the month, which will occur on the regular sailing dates.

The British steamer Ikla, Captain Carruthers, is still anchored in the stream at Vancouver waiting further orders. It is practically agreed that the Ikla will go to Liverpool under easy steam and have new boilers installed, but the owners, the Gulf Transport Line, hope to get some sort of a charter homeward.

The sailing ship Dunsyre, which has been loading lumber at Chemainus, will complete her cargo to-day. She is going to Sydney and will have 2,000,000 feet on board. The Chilean ship Ivanhoe, will commence loading lumber at Chemainus at once for Valparaiso. The Norwegian steamer Artemis is due there to load lumber for Adelaide, under charter to J. J. Moore & Co.

The Endymion dropped anchor in the Royal Roads last evening, after a voyage of 46 days from Callao to Vancouver to load lumber for the south. The period is regarded as unusual for the Peruvian port, compared with the average duration of the trip for sailing ships.

When the Quadra leaves on Monday she will take a gas buoy for the Greene Point rapids, in the Cordero channel. These rapids are formed by a strong tidal current off Greene Point, West Thurlow Island.

"LIKE MAGIC"

New Food Makes Wonderful Changes

When a man has suffered from dyspepsia so many years that he can't remember when he had a natural appetite, and then hits on a way out of trouble he may be excused for saying "it acts like magic."

When it is a simple, wholesome food instead of any one of a large number of so-called remedies in the form of drugs, he is more than ever likely to feel as though a sort of miracle has been performed.

A Western man, in the delight of restored digestion, puts it in this way: "Like magic, fittingly describes the manner in which Grape-Nuts relieved me of poor digestion, coated tongue and loss of appetite, of many years' standing."

"I tried about every medicine that was recommended to me, without relief. Then I tried Grape-Nuts on the suggestion of a friend. By the time I had finished the fourth package, my stomach was all right, and for the past two months I have been eating with a relish anything set before me. That is something I had been unable to do previously for years."

"I am stronger than ever and I consider the effects of Grape-Nuts on a weak stomach as something really wonderful. It builds up the entire body as well as the brain and nerves." Name given by the Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pgs. Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

MARY AND BEATRICE

WILL BE OVERHAULED

Princess Sophia Will Leave Ways on Tuesday for Northern Route

Next to overhaul at the Victoria Machinery Depot will be the Princess Mary, and she will be followed by the Princess Beatrice, both of the Canadian Pacific fleet.

The Princess Sophia will leave the ways at the B. C. Marine railway on Tuesday and will be ready about June 6 to come into the northern route where there is a great deal of freight offering. She will alternate with the Princess Mary on that route. Business to Skagway, and way ports is particularly brisk at the present time.

The Princess Mary is expected at the ways about the middle of next week, and would have been here earlier, but for the demands on her services owing to the expansion of business.

It will be some time yet before the trials of the Princess Maquina, the new vessel for the west coast, will be possible.

RATES FOR GRAIN WILL ADVANCE IN AUGUST

It is stated that the rates for grain transportation from the North Pacific ports to the Far East will be restored on August 16, on account of the fact that a number of transpans are in search of cargoes. It is believed that suitable tonnage may be had at a lower rate than that fixed by the operators of the regular liners.

The present low rates being quoted for carrying the cereal on the regular liners are 13 a ton to Japanese ports, $4 a ton to Shanghai and Hongkong, and $5 a ton to Manila. When the old rates are restored they will be $4.50 a ton to Japanese ports, $5.50 a ton to Shanghai and Hongkong and $6.50 a ton to Manila. They will go into effect just at the time that new-crop grain begins to arrive at tidewater in considerable quantity. The low tariff is being kept in force merely through the dull season.

ADDRESS TO PRESIDENT SEPARATE FROM WELCOME

In connection with the anticipated arrival of the Empress of Russia, the crack new Canadian Pacific steamer, the board of trade desires to make it clear that the address which is under preparation by a committee is one entirely apart from any reception which the civic authorities may decide to arrange.

The address to Sir Thomas Shaughnessy will be presented through Mr. Marpole, to mark the improvement in the service in this past twenty-two years, and the recognition of Victoria as the first and last port of call.

ALBERT BERTHS FOR

HER EXAMINATION

Enters Esquimalt Harbor This Morning to Discharge
Oil Fuel

When the Prince Albert took up her berth at the British Columbia Marine railway wharf this morning, Capt. D. O'Brien learned that it would be Tuesday before the examination of her hull could be made on the ways. The examination follows her grounding off Port Simpson dock on Thursday week.

She will discharge the remainder of her oil fuel into the tanks of the Princess Maquina, which is across the wharf from the Grand Trunk steamship's berth, and also discharge any ballast there may be before taking the ways in succession to the Princess Sophia, which will be ready by that date.

The captain attributes the accident off Port Simpson to the fact that when the steamer came alongside at the wharf there was no one to take the mooring lines. She had to drift out again, in consequence of which, with tide and wind combined, the vessel was carried out on a shoal a few hundred feet back and stranded. This occurred at 3.15 a. m., and as it was recognized that it would require a high tide 24 hours later to float her, the passengers were removed on the Venture and taken to Prince Rupert.

After she was refloated next day, the Albert proceeded to Prince Rupert and there the port warden made a preliminary survey. He found her slightly injured under the engine room, some plates being dented, but she was seaworthy, and accordingly he granted an interim certificate to enable the steamer to take freight across to the Queen Charlotte Islands. She left Rose Bay for Vancouver at 10.30, on Thursday, and made a good run to the Terminal City in 23 hours, but experienced very rough weather till entering Seymour Narrows. Carrying through the programme at the Queen Charlottes, it was necessary to take shelter at Jedway on account of the uncomfortable blow outside.

She will now be examined thoroughly. Some repairs will be necessary, the full extent of which will not be known till the survey has been executed. It is thought the tanks will require some alteration.

Meanwhile communication with Port Simpson, Massett and Naden harbor will be maintained in connection with the Prince George, and with Skidegate and the southern points through the Prince Rupert, by the Prince John.

NEWS OF SHIPPING FROM SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, May 30.—Williams, Diamond & Company have just chartered the new steamer Camosun, recently launched at Camden, N. J., for general cargo from Philadelphia to this port.

The vessel will leave Philadelphia in July, and will make the voyage around the Horn without a stop. She expects to complete the trip in sailing date. The vessel will carry a cargo of 3,400 tons. She will be brought out by Captain H. C. Thomas, formerly of the steamer President.

The steamers Buckman and Hornet left for Puget Sound yesterday, also the schooner Snow and Burgess and Fred E. Sander.

The Pacific Mail liner Korea left for the Orient yesterday, the freighter Arizonian for Honolulu direct.

The British steamer Manchester Citizen is reported as having left from Manila for this port last Friday. The vessel had coal from Norfolk for the government, but whether she discharged at Manila, or will bring her cargo on to this port is not known. Balfour, Guthrie & Co. have her chartered outward for lumber from the Columbia river to Calcutta or Bombay.

TRINCULO BRINGS OIL FOR NIAGARA'S TANKS

When the Trinculo reaches Vancouver on Monday from San Francisco, bringing 4,000 tons of oil fuel for the liner Niagara, she will berth alongside the vessel, and pump direct to the steamship's storage tanks. The bunkers of the Niagara are being cleared and 400 tons are being discharged into lighters. This is good Australian coal, and will have a ready sale. Only sufficient will be retained to keep the galley going on the southbound trip.

On the voyage from Honolulu two of the boilers were tried with oil fuel, and while there was some trouble on account of the fact that the test was something in the nature of an experiment, the officers were satisfied that the transfer will be beneficial in the long run.

ESQUIMALT TOWN HALL

PROPOSED
MUNICIPAL BUILDING ESQUIMALT B.C.

Above is a sketch of the town hall
according to the plans drawn by Thomas D. Sedger and submitted to the Esquimalt council for approval.
The building will be situated on the south side of Esquimalt road, between Fraser street and Admiral's road. The plans call for a stone foundation and a frame structure of two and a half stories with a basement. The dimensions are 50 to 52 feet, and it is estimated that the cost will be between $12,000 and $18,000. On the right as one goes in the front entrance the city clerk's office will be the first door;

while behind it, extending to the rear of the building, will be the general office and vault. On the left will be the drafting room, and behind that the engineer's office. The police station will be in the back left hand corner, the lockup being situated in the basement directly below. The entire front portion of the second story will be the council chamber, and an apartment at the rear will be for the chief of police or the janitor. There will be a deck at the top for the use of sightseers.

there is no difficulty in providing enough water for her at the outer wharves. She is 290 feet long; Captain Lionel Halsey states that the warship will arrive on July 20, and proceed to Vancouver five days later, remaining until August 5. As already stated in the Times, the Admiralty has chartered vessels to bring Welsh steam coal to British Columbia in order to provide fuel for the dreadnought.

Captain Halsey, then a lieutenant in R. M. S. Powerful, went up to Ladysmith with the naval brigade, under Captain (now Admiral Sir) Hedworth Meux, formerly Lambton, and was wounded during the siege. After the death of Commander Egerton he was the executive officer of the naval brigade.
He had charge of the 4.7-inch gun in the Princess Victoria battery of the Cove Hill redoubt, and was generally in charge of the naval guns which alone could range the Boer
"Long Tom," 96 pounders, and so saved Ladysmith. In recognition of his services he was promoted commander in January, 1901, and became captain in June, 1905, one of the youngest officers in his rank, having been born in February, 1872. In June, 1905, he commissioned the Powerful as flag captain to Vice-Admiral Sir Wilnot Fawkes, commander-in-chief on the Australian station, and returned home with him in 1908.

The officers include Commander H.
E. Grace, a son of W. G. Grace, the famous cricketer, who was born in 1876 and is a gunnery expert; Prince George of Battenburg, is a sub-lieutenant, and is a son of Prince Louis of Battenburg,
First Sea Lord.

Among the midshipmen are the Earl of Carlisle, head of one of the branches of the Howards, and Lord Burghess, heir of the Earl of Westmoreland.

Five of the officers are New Zealanders by birth.

The dreadnought has been welcomed with receptions and festivities in every port where she has put in so far.

BANK ACT IS NOW PASSED BY SENATE

Ottawa, May 31.—The Senate, yesterday completed the consideration of the Bank Act. A number of amendments proposed by the department of finance were adopted. They are all of a technical character, and do not affect the principle of the bill.

An amendment which was adopted provides that banks "may" establish stock transfer agencies in each province. As the bill came to the Senate this clause declared that banks "shall"
establish such agencies.

The amendments were approved and the bill read a third time.

The Senate then adjourned until Monday afternoon.

Collision With Electric Train at Eburne Results in Injuries

Vancouver, May 31.—Narrowly escaping death, five persons, residents of New Westminster, are now lying in the Vancouver general hospital, victims of an automobile accident, which occurred last night in Eburne. On their way to Vancouver Mrs. Hugh Macdonald, who was driving, had been taking the car along at an average speed, and approaching the crossing of the interurban car track, which was evidently not kept for the approach of the cars of that line, which run at uncertain intervals. The crossing at this particular point is partly obscured and before warning could be given by the electric car, the auto struck the train, and was whirled almost completely about, the occupants being thrown out.

The interurban car at the time of the accident was going at the rate of approximately thirty miles per hour, and could not be stopped promptly. The shock was a heavy one, as the street car struck the automobile. The electric car was brought to a stop as soon as possible, and the injured persons were quickly picked up and taken to the general hospital, Vancouver, where their injuries were attended to.

The occupants of the automobile were William Walsh, who had one finger broken, and received minor injuries; Mrs. Hugh Macdonald, Mrs.
B. G. McPhail, Miss Eleanor Bishop and Mrs. Ada Sippel, all of the latter receiving injuries which necessitated their being detained in the hospital.

AFTERTHOUGHT

It was not without a sense of fallen pride that the father of a Manchester boy who was away from home for the Whit-week holidays read the brief note sent by young hopeful to his parents yesterday. It ran:—

Dear father and mother, I hope you bunny, I'm going well. I hope you are well, too. Your loving son, Freddie.

STRING OF CAMPS ALONG P. & E. LINE

Over Thirteen Hundred Men Employed by Contractors
Near Seaton Lake

Vancouver, May 31.—A string of construction camps now extend along the route of the Pacific Great Eastern railway from the head in Cheakamus valley, 14 miles from New Port, to a point 20 miles north of Lillooet, on the Fraser river.

The latest additions are on the summit of the Coast range at Green lake and down the Green river to Pemberton Meadows, where grading is now actually in progress, and northward along Pemberton portage, Anderson lake and Seaton lake. The men on the payroll exceed 1,200 in number and are added to by daily arrivals from the completed sections of the Canadian Northern.

The work will be heavy all the way across the mountains from Pemberton Meadows to the lower reaches of the Cheakamus, where 1,000 men are now engaged. The contractors for the work just started on the north side of the divide down Green river are J. B. L.
McDonald, C. J. Jones, Clarence Mitchell and Mackenzie, Pearson & Co. One year hence will see, it is expected, the completion of the line between Newport and Lillooet.

CURED OF DRINK BY SIMPLE REMEDY

A Devoted Wife Helps Her Husband to a Cure Through Samaria Prescription.

Mrs. S. of Trenton, was in despair.
A loving father and a careful provider
when sober—her husband had gradually fallen into drinking habits, which were ruining his home, health and happiness. Drink had inflamed his stomach and nerves and created that unnatural craving that kills conscience, love, honor and breaks all family ties.

"I feel it my duty to say a few words about your Tablets. As you are aware, I sent and got a bottle thinking
I would try them in secret. My husband had only taken them a week when he told me he was going to Port Arthur for the summer, so I had to tell him all about the tablets. He said he would take them just the same, so I sent and got the second bottle for fear one would not be enough. He writes me saying that he has taken the contents of both bottles, and he feels splendid; does not care for drink;
in fact he has not taken any liquor
from the first of my giving it to him.
I feel I cannot say too much in favor of your wonderful remedy.

"MRS. S., Trenton, Ont."

Samaria Prescription stops the craving for drink. It restores the shaking nerves, improves the appetite, and general health, and makes drink distasteful and even nauseous. It is used regularly by Physicians and Hospitals, and is tasteless and odorless, dissolving instantly in tea, coffee or food.

Now if you know of any home on which the cure of drink has fallen tell them of Samaria Prescription. If you have a husband, father, brother, or friend on whom the habit is getting its hold, help him yourself. Write to-day.

BEAVERS INCREASE THEIR LEAD WHILE OTHER TEAMS BREAK EVEN

Victoria Batters Made Four Home Runs in First Game Against Tigers

The Beavers increased their lead in the Northwestern League yesterday by winning both games of a double-header from the Indians, while the other clubs on the circuit only managed to break even.

Victoria romped away with the morning game from the Tigers at Tacoma 7 to 2, even though the Tigers did out-hit them. The Bees hit when the bingles were most needed and produced four home-run clouts during the session. Narveson was batted all over the lot in the afternoon contest, Tacoma winning 7 to 4.

Seattle came through with a belated batting rally in the morning game against the Colts and won out 8 to 5, but they could not touch Martini in the afternoon contest, and lost 3 to 1.

Vancouver collected twelve safe hits from Risberg in the first game at Spokane and won 4 to 3. Schmutz weakened in the eighth and Clark was sent to the rescue. Vancouver led all the way in the second game, and with McCreery pitching fine ball had little difficulty in winning. The score was 5 to 1.

Young Melvor, the Seattle high school youth, won his first game for the Giants yesterday. It was the worst he has pitched this season. Up till yesterday the champions had failed to make a run behind the m. In any game he started in, but they went down on a batting spree and knocked out eight runs.

Lefty Kantlehner, the Victoria south-paw, is the leading twirler in the Northwestern League to date. Fullerton, of Seattle, held this honor until the champions stacked up against the Beavers and then he dropped three. Kantlehner has won nine and dropped only one game this season. His best performances were against the Spokane club when he beat the Indians three times in one week.

Harry Meek upheld his reputation as the leading slugger of the Northwestern League yesterday when he cracked out three safe blows against the Tigers in four trips to the plate. If the White Hope keeps on going he will be well over the 400 mark when the official averages are published again.

The Bees will be home next week for a series with the Pippins.

Lou Nordyke has yet to get a hit with Victoria. Apparently the veteran is too anxious to make good against the Tigers and he cannot hit his stride. Three years ago Nordyke was a dangerous hitter, and although he

NANAIMO UNITED WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Vancouver Thistles Beaten by Miners in People's Shield Competition 1-0

Nanaimo, May 31.—Shutting out the Thistles for the second time, one goal to nothing, at the Athletic park last night, the Nanaimo soccer team carried away the people's shield, and will hold the trophy for a year. The goal city eleven will meet the Thistles in another game this evening, but the match will in no way affect the standing of the clubs, the Nanaimo team having won two games out of the three.

There was no scoring in the first half of last night's fixture, but the Nanaimo team outlasted Thistles, R. Stobard finally sending the winning tally. The Vancouver team tried hard to even up the score, but the Islanders were too strong, and were pressing the locals hard at the finish. Christian and Teed starred for the Thistles, while the Stobard boys were very effective for the victors.

The teams: Nanaimo—Sheppard, Murray, Hewitt, Mossey, White and Young, Wardell, D. Stobard, J. Gibson, R. Stobard, H. Lightfoot. Thistles—Horne, Christian, Teed, Bruce, Irving, Butchart and Bell, Anderson, Harrop, Tomlinson and Doull. Referee—Ovington, Nanaimo.

ARBITRARY BOARD TO DECIDE PROTEST

H. W. Sangster, Tim Mahoney and C. D. Peete, of New Westminster, will act as an arbitrary board in connection with the protest lodged by the Victoria Lacrosse Club in their game against the V. A. C. two weeks ago.

James L. Keary, president of the P. C. A., appointed the Royal City delegates last night. The protest will be considered at a special meeting of the association which will be held in Vancouver this evening.

Leater Patrick and Leo Sweeney, the two Victoria officials who will referee the lacrosse game this afternoon between Vancouver and New Westminster, left for the Terminal City last night. Both are capable officials and should be able to hold the players in check.

The new right-hander will join the club immediately and will pitch in one of the games against the Portland team next week. Fitzgerald has been with the Wolves for several seasons and has always managed to win about half of the games he pitched—even though he was with a tail-end team. He should help out the Victoria club quite a bit as the Bees are weak in the box at present.

The team follows: Captain Chambers, Messrs. Macan, Hineks, Matherson and Arbuckle, Victoria; Messrs. Gardner, Yellowsides and Bone, Vancouver.

The series will end when one team has won the trophy three times in succession.

At the Victoria Kennel Club's meeting yesterday, at which fifteen members were present, Dr. Medd, the president, made the gratifying announcement that the eastern and official papers had reported the show recently held as being the best in every way that had ever been held on the coast.

NORTH WARDS WIN. After an exciting game full of incidents the Wards emerged victorious over the High School last night at the North Ward park by the score of 7 to 6. The High School in the first three innings managed to secure six runs to the Wards' one, but by persistent playing the Wards were successful in overtaking the High School. Strait and McIlride were the batteries for the High School, while Balcom and Dinsdale were batteries for the Wards.

Tooke PATENT NEK-GARD

This is the latest improvement—and "the greatest thing that ever happened to a shirt."

The Tooke Patent Nek-Gard protects the neck in front as well as at the back. The collar button goes in or out with usual ease. The collar button cannot touch, cannot pinch, cannot irritate. The Tooke Nek-Gard is not affected by laundering. See that the next shirt you buy has the Tooke patent Nek-Gard.

The doctor admitted that some mistakes had without doubt been made in the arrangements of the show, but they were only such as any new body was liable to make, and only occurred through ignorance. The experience gained had been of great benefit, the general result of the club's members' tenure of office as the officials of the club and show had been most satisfactory.

Miss Winslow, the secretary-treasurer of the club, said that the financial affairs of the club were in a sound and healthy condition. After all accounts had been paid there was a balance in the club's favor of $160. The members present decided to present the secretary with $100 as a recognition of her efforts in connection with the recent show.

The annual meeting is called for June 11, to be held in Dr. Garesche's office at 8 p. m. Officers for the succeeding year will be elected, and plans for the future will then be considered. A proposal was brought forward for holding shows in Carnival Week and exhibition week; nothing definite was decided upon, the advisability of doing so being left to the discretion of the board to be elected at the annual meeting. The old officers were generally in favor of continuing the good work begun, and utilizing the admirably adapted building at the fair grounds for at least another show this year.

The secretary, P. O. Box 1123, can be consulted at any time on the affairs of the club, and will be pleased to receive names of parties who wish to become members of the club. The fee is only $2 per annum, and the objects of the club are not only to hold shows and foster the breeding of pure-bred dogs, but to encourage their proper treatment and aid in every way the work of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

GILLETTE

The Symbol of Clean-cut Modern Manhood

There are over 40 Gillette styles from which to choose. Standard Sets, like the illustration, cost $5.00—Pocket Editions $5.00 to $6.00—Combination Sets, with brush, soap and other toilet articles, run from $6.50 up. PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills
Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores

When the bowels of the body—bowels, kidneys and skin ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes:

"For some time I had been in a low depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood, and I looked about in vain for some medicine that would accomplish this.

At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cleanse the system thoroughly. Sold by all dealers at 25c a box.

ARE RECRUITING FOR THE FIFTH REGIMENT

Special Campaign Being Made to Bring Unit to Full Strength

The campaign started during the week to bring the Fifth Regiment up to full strength has been successful up to now. Quite a number of desirable young men have been interviewed who have either joined or expressed their desire to do so before camp.

The campaign has brought forth expressions of approval from leading citizens of Victoria and Col. A. W. Currie has received the following letter from the premier:

"Victoria, May 30, 15.
"Lieut. Colonel Currie,
O. C. Fifth Regiment,
Victoria, B. C.

"My Dear Col. Currie: I have heard to-day that you personally propose undertaking a campaign in the city in order to raise the Fifth Regiment to its full strength. Militia matters have always appealed to me very strongly and I know of nothing more conducive to the general public good than promotion of keen and active interest in a work of this kind.

"I would most strongly commend to my fellow citizens the campaign that is now under way and most certainly trust that it will be effective in securing for you a full complement of the right sort of material.

"Your regiment has established for itself a splendid Canadian record and this ought to serve as a strong inducement toward making membership in it attractive.

"Yours sincerely
"RICHARD McBRIE."

The officers and men feel that with this appeal from the premier those who have the regiment's welfare at heart will set about helping to the best of their ability to obtain the desired complement. The Fifth Regiment has been proved to be one of the best recreations for the manhood of a nation. It teaches discipline, regular and temperate habits, self reliance and assists in the physical culture of the man. This special effort will appeal to all the young men of the city to come forward and help uphold the great traditions of this splendid regiment.

The regiment will go into camp on June 15, and all members going now will be entitled to enter the various competitions. Free use of rifle and ammunition are arranged for every Saturday at the range. The club, gymnasium, sports are open to all, every information can be obtained at the drill hall any Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday evening.

Messrs. Fitzpatrick & O'Connell have generously granted the regiment the use of their window during the coming week for a display of cups, trophies, medals, etc., won in the various Canadian competitions in his gun practice, rifle shooting, drill and efficiency. This imposing array is eloquent evidence of the great record of the Fifth Regiment and the position it holds in the Canadian militia forces. Prominent amongst the cups is that presented in 1912 by H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught for general efficiency. This beautiful specimen of the silversmith's art was competed for by coast defence batteries on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard and won by No. 1 Co., Fifth Regiment.

THE CHANGES AT SCOTLAND YARD

GREAT POLICEMAN IS ABOUT TO RETIRE

Sir Melville Macnaghten Has Resigned the Post of Assistant and Commissioner

London, May 31.—Sir Melville Macnaghten, the assistant commissioner of the Metropolitan police at Scotland Yard, has resigned his position. He retires shortly, and his vacancy will be filled by the Hon. F. T. Bigham.

Mr. Bigham, who for some time past has been chief constable of the criminal investigation department at Scotland Yard, is the son of Lord Mersey, the late president of the probate and divorce court, and during his reign at Whitehall has made himself popular with all grades of the police service there.

Ill-Health.
Sir Melville's retirement is due to ill-health. For many months past the assistant commissioner has been ill. He had a serious breakdown early in 1912, and was then granted long leave of absence.

Recommended a sea voyage and complete rest by his medical attendant, Sir Melville and Lady Macnaghten sailed in February, 1912, in the S. S. Mongolia for Australia, remaining abroad for the best part of the year. He returned to London much benefited, but the strain of official duties during the "reign of terror" in the East End, which culminated in the Sidney street explosion, left effects which he had never been able to shake of permanently.

Early Years in India.

The seeds of ill-health were sown much earlier in his career, when as was in India, where for fifteen years he managed the estates belonging to his family. He joined the criminal investigation department at Scotland Yard in 1889, when he was appointed assistant chief constable in the place of Sir (then Mr.) E. R. Henry, who was promoted to commissioner.

During his reign at Scotland Yard Sir Melville has witnessed many changes, both in personnel and method, and it would be safe to say that every change has been for the better. He always displayed the utmost keenness at his work, and in the famous "couple" at the Yard he ever took a leading part. Both in action and advice he was resourceful; quick to act, courageous in his methods, and absolutely fearless in whatever he did. To the qualities of concentration and doggedness he added a lively, but not too highly-colored, imagination, which made him uniquely useful in his responsible office.

A Powerful Combination.
Sir Melville and Chief Superintendent Frank Frost, during the latter's reign at Whitehall, got on wonderfully well together. In their harmonious brotherhood of labor these two important public officials did incalculable good in their efforts to raise the status and improve the morale of the Metropolitan police force.

New Faces and Figures.

During the past few years there have been many changes and many retirements at Whitehall; indeed, there are very few of the old familiar faces and figures left there. Most of the noted detectives, from Sir Melville (perhaps our most famous secret officer of modern days) downwards, whose names have been familiar to the public during the turbulence of the last two decades, have retired either into private life or charge of their profession as private inquiry agents.

Mr. Frost (famously known to his intimates as "Frankie") has gone, and his cheerful presence and ringing laugh are seen and heard no more in the somewhat grim precincts of the Yard. If such men as these have left regrets behind them they have also left a legacy of splendid effort which is even more lasting.

Younger Men's Opportunity.

Younger men are coming along—have come in fact, and the work they are already doing shows abundantly that they are the right men in the right place. The standard of excellence for which Scotland Yard has ever been famous has not only been maintained, but perceptibly raised in every department, and the "young men" are now in charge of responsible positions and the younger men who are coming on promise well for the peace and the good behavior of our perplexing Metropolis.

WATCH GLASS COINCIDENCE.

How's this for a coincidence? (writes Mr. F. W. Sullivan in the New Witness) I was in a den of iniquity in the city the other day when a man standing near me pulled out his watch. "I broke the glass of this cursed thing this morning," he remarked. Thereupon a friend of his, happening to glance downwards, caught sight of something glittering in the sawdust on the floor. He picked it up, found it was a watch-glass, tried it on the watch, and found it fitted perfectly. Now call me what you like. I was there and witnessed the incident. And the only corroborative evidence I will call in support of the story is this: Though the odds against such an event happening are doubtless incalculable, what are the odds against my inventing such a story? I couldn't make it up once in a million years.

The Canadian-Built Studebaker "25"

A Car of Quality

THE STUDEBAKER "25" has arrived. Built in a Canadian factory by Canadian workmen, tested on Canadian roads, the car is marketed by Canadians at a price well within the reach of every prosperous citizen.

In strength, ability, beauty and price combined, the Studebaker "25" is an achievement of which Canada has a just right to be proud. Only a manufacturing experience of years, backed by a business alliance with the greatest vehicle builder on the American continent makes possible such a car at such a price.

You can find no car at any price, showing better workmanship, higher quality of steels or more graceful lines than the Studebaker "25."

Its long-stroke, British-type motor is a marvel of economy and power. Through the sight-feed on the dash, you can watch a stream of oil flowing to all moving motor parts. You can leave the motor running idly on the hot-test day, but the water will not boil. Adjustment of any vital part is easily possible without removing any other.

Your own home dealer has a Studebaker "25" ready for your inspection. Search its finish for a single flaw. Test its deep cushions while he shows you its ability to fairly "eat up" the hills. The efficiency of the starting feature will surely appeal to you. Enter your order quickly, for the demand is now greater than we can hope to supply.

Do not overlook the advantage of buying your 1913 car from an established Canadian manufacturer with a national reputation and a service record to which the owner of any Studebaker car is always glad to testify.

NATURALIST COMES TO JOIN THE KARLUK

H. Johansen Says Expedition
Will Start Later Than Expected

That the Karluk, the vessel of the Canadian Arctic Expedition will not be ready to start on her northern trip as soon as expected is certain, according to H. Johansen, the Danish naturalist, who has arrived to join the party. Mr. Johansen will follow the Steffansson expedition, and will be attached to the southern party, which will make investigations on the practically unknown islands north of Alaska.

In the first place Mr. Johansen is to have a laboratory on board the Karluk, the installation of which is expected to take quite a while. There are many other preparations to be made before the expedition will be ready to leave for the Arctic, and Mr. Johansen thinks it extremely unlikely that they will be able to leave on June 10 as was announced.

To See Unknown Land.
"There will be two parties," said Mr. Johansen, "a northern and a southern. The northern party will proceed as far north as possible in the Karluk, while the southern, under the command of Dr. Anderson, will make extensive topographical and possibly ethnographical observations on the islands north of Alaska. There is a tradition among the Eskimos that Victoria Land, the large and practically unknown island, is inhabited by some Eskimo tribe.

We are going to have a small ship for the southern party, and we have several in view, although no definite arrangements have been made as yet." Mr. Johansen drew a rough sketch of the islands to which his party will devote their time. These are Victoria Land, Herchel Island, Banks Land and Prince Patrick Island.

"When at Ottawa Dr. Anderson, Mr. Deuchat, the young French anthropologist, four Canadian members of the expedition and I had a most interesting interview with Dr. Broch, the director of the Ottawa Museum, where we discussed all the plans in connection with the expedition.

"It is our intention to anchor in the fjord running into Victoria Land, near the Mackenzie river. Here we shall have a splendid opportunity to make investigations into this unknown land. This country is believed to be full of big game, especially caribou. The Eskimos have found large supplies of copper here, and there will be a geological survey to ascertain whether there are mines or boulders. So little is this country known that parts have never even been mapped. Over 100 miles of the northeast coast will have to be mapped, the other part was partly explored by Captain Hansen, who followed the Amundsen expedition when the Gjoa sailed through the Northwest Passage.

Search For Copper.
The flora and fauna are unknown also. Undoubtedly the most important part of this expedition will be the search for these copper deposits which, according to all indications, are the largest on the North American continent.

As to myself I am entrusted with the task of finding the depths of the waters in the neighborhood of Melville Island and Prince of Wales Island. I shall have a motor boat, and make thorough hydrographical survey of these waters, which at present are unfit for navigation. The economic importance of this is possibly of enormous value as it may change the routes of ships cruising in these waters."

Mr. Johansen is no novice at this kind of work. He was one of the members of the famous Mylius Eriksen expedition which made such valuable discoveries in Greenland a few years ago.

ERROR IN REPORT

Evidence Attributed to Dr. J. D. Hunter Was Given by J. O. Graham at Quarantine Hearings.

Through a mechanical error, the report of the session of the quarantine inquiry which appeared in the Times of yesterday was misleading. Part of the evidence given by J. O. Graham was made to appear as evidence given by Dr. J. D. Hunter.

The following was the testimony of Mr. Graham, not of Dr. Hunter: The sanitary arrangements, continued the witness, were most objectionable.

"Why did you not protest to Dr. Watt?"

"I did not know him." He stated that he had come from London via the Suez canal, and that most of his fellow passengers had come from India, the Straits Settlements, China and Japan; consequently the sudden exposure to the cold at the quarantine station had affected most of them in a very serious way, as they had thus just arrived from the hot climate of the Orient.

As to the administration of the witness stated that in his opinion insufficient attention had been paid by the inspecting government doctor.

"These government officials," said the witness, "should go themselves what we went through. They go on an inspection, they have a bunch, chat, that is all. These government officials are not very intent on doing things properly."

He stated that on one occasion, he had seen a man named Pete hauling telephone poles to the station, and it was inexplicable to him that this man should be allowed to walk about before his farm and the detained passengers.

"Did you ever see or hear of any passengers being allowed to leave the quarantine station?"

"Only rumors; I saw nothing."

MRS. GREATON'S AWFUL EXPERIENCE

During Change of Life—How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold. I had creepy sensations and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—Mrs. MARION SWEET GREATON, No. 1 Jefferson St., Natick, Mass.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

THE EVENING CHIT-CHAT By RUTH CAMERON

Is the servant question quite so terrible a problem as we have been led to think it?

Some weeks ago I wrote a little article giving my opinion that it was not, and that a woman who would treat those who served her reasonably and considerately need not pay exorbitant wages or change maids every few weeks.

I expected nothing but criticism for this stand as the opposite has so often been claimed in women's columns and women's magazines. Therefore I was more than happy to receive the following collaboration of my article in a letter which evidently came from a woman of education, refinement, and position.

"Will you allow me to thank you for your very sane paragraphs on the servant question," writes this woman.

"Between my own and my mother's houses, in winter and in summer life, in small and in large families, I have come closely into contact with many servants. And I have never known one whom I did not both respect and admire. They have been, in no sentimental way whatever, among my most loyal friends. In trouble they have helped me as no one else could, by taking all care off of me. Over and over they have shown the same self-control, the same kindly wish to be of service, the same dignity that we prize so much among ourselves. I am in a constant state of gratitude to my servants not only for their skill but for their spirit. This spirit is not due to any magical thing I do for them, but simply to their own fine characters."

Can the servant problem be so absolutely hopeless as many mistresses would have us believe when one woman has found it so very simple?

"This spirit," she says, "is not due to any magical thing I do for them. Perhaps there are some women who would differ from her. Evidently she does not consider as magical or extraordinary the use of courtesy and consideration toward those who serve her, and a habit of remembering that they are human beings like herself, with good qualities that deserve appreciation."

There are many women to whom such an attitude would seem most extraordinary and magical. Such women will always have a servant problem. They will always be writing to the magazines about the rudeness, the unreliability and the inefficiency of their servants, and will never reflect that it is barely possible that these servants are a mirror of those with whom they live.

You think I am prejudiced in favor of the servant side of the question? Only as I am always prejudiced in favor of that side which has not the opportunity of the ability to speak for itself.

MOTOR CARS IN BIG DEMAND LOCALLY

Sales of Victoria Firms Continue to Outstrip Factory Deliveries

During the past month the Western Motor Company has increased its sales over one hundred per cent. of the previous month's sales, and still the inquiries for cars and requests for trial runs continue to pour into the office. Conditions generally are much better than a few weeks ago. During the last few weeks a model 40 40 h. p. McLaughlin machine has been delivered to Victoria purchasers; also two model 25 runabouts (26 h. p.). In addition to these deliveries the firm has sent machines to Cumberland and Ladysmith, a model 25 going to each place.

All these machines appear to be giving absolute satisfaction, and stand the summer touring which has already commenced in a thorough manner on all the island roads. Just this week a model 31 machine of 32 h. p. has been sold to a purchaser in Victoria, and later inquiries promise to mature in sales also.

Moore & Pauline. Messrs. Moore & Pauline have to suffer from over-popularity by severe seasons of depression subsequent to a dearth of machines for sale, and this is likely to overtake them within the next few days. They are absolutely sold out at the present moment, and the only star on the horizon is a carload of model 25 machines which will be unloaded this afternoon. It is doubtful, however, if this will help them over the next ten days very much, and the next shipment is not expected before June 10.

Nine sales within a week is a good record, yet this is what the firm has been able to do. One car went to Nanaimo, the other eight remaining in Victoria, and to-day another is on its way to a purchaser in Duncan. The entire supply of twenty-five machines which is to arrive the second week in June should, at this rate, soon be disposed of. The models in this shipment will be all 25's and 35's.

Mr. Benson, sales manager for the Studebaker factory in Detroit, visited the local agents this week, and reported that business was so good throughout the country generally that the factory had not been able to keep up with the demand. It is the biggest year from a business standpoint that the firm has ever realized, and Mr. Benson was so delighted with the motoring-enthusiasm in Victoria that he was constrained to pronounce it next to Los Angeles as an automobile centre.

NEW USES FOR PRETTY WIVES.

Certain motorists have discovered a method of getting all repairs on the road done free of charge and without lifting a finger themselves.

The other day a man was motoring through Surrey to the south coast when he came upon a car by the roadside, with a young woman trying to get one of the back tires off. She was a very charming girl, and gracefully accepted his offer of assistance. He effected the repair for her, getting very dirty. She thanked him and he went on.

After luncheon at a hotel a little later he was sitting in the smoking room when the girl drove up with another woman and two men in the car. The men came in laughing and talking, and one said to the other: "That's a splendid idea of yours, deserting the car and leaving your wife to prevail on kind passers-by to effect your repairs, while you sit at a safe distance and watch."

The other replied: "She thought of it herself. One day we had a puncture, and I left her for a few minutes to go to a cottage near by. When I returned I found four people offering to help. Of course, on that occasion we did the repair ourselves."

ONE OF THE CAUSES

Lost Motion in Timer May Bring Ignition Trouble.

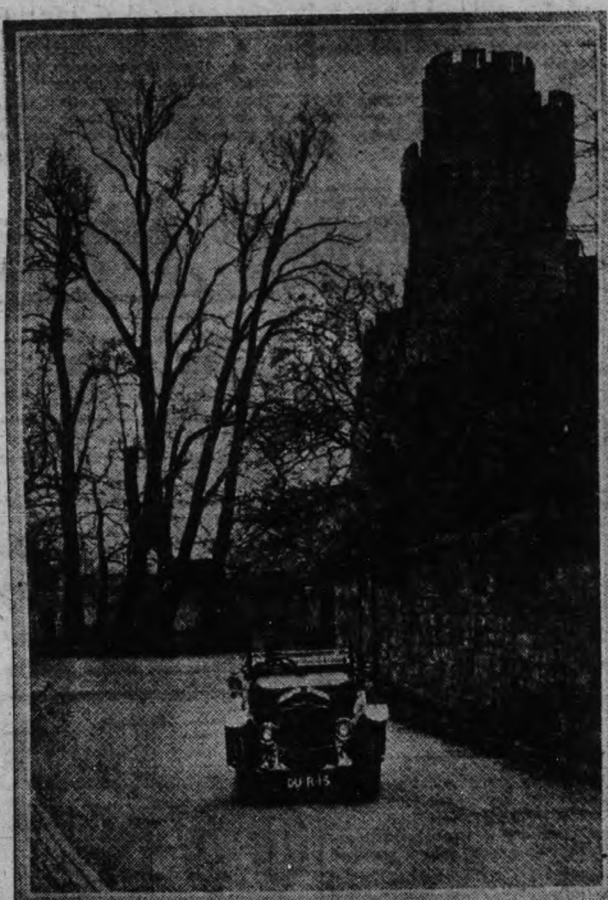

Lost motion in the timer may cause considerable trouble with the ignition on cars having a battery and coil. Frequently the timer on such cars will be seen wobbling back and forth on its shaft, resulting in irregularity in the ignition or lack of synchronism of the sparks. Missing may also be caused by the timer not making good contact with the shaft, and therefore breaking ground on the engine. If this happens on the road and there is no way to stop the wobbling, the missing at least can be stopped by supplying a perfect ground. Connect a wire from the ground side of the timer to some metallic part of the motor. A screw in the base of the timer may be used if the wire is fastened to the shaft just below it. In making the connection, be sure to scrape thoroughly the wire and the surface, to insure perfect contact.

TESTING CHEAPER FUELS

Manufacturers Employ More Economic Material for Testing Purposes.

As a reaction against the high price of gasoline, automobile manufacturers are beginning to employ cheaper fuels for testing purposes, and while this practice has not yet become general, from different indications it is safe to predict that it represents a possible saving of upwards of 3,000,000 gallons of gasoline within the next twelve months alone. Although this is figuratively but a drop in the bucket as compared with the total cost of gasoline for automobile use, it is by no means negligible at a time when the oil refiners are squeezing every possible drop of the lighter oils out of a none too plentiful supply of petroleum. On the same basis of calculation the employment of cheap fuels for motor testing will involve a direct saving of at least $1,750,000.

USES KEROSENE AS AUTOMOBILE FUEL

Tests by Ray Harroun With Special Carburetor Show Interesting Results

MORE SPEED AT LESS COST IS ACQUIRED

Revolution in Automobile Fuel Industry Promised by Discovery

Ray Harroun, winner of the Indianapolis speedway 500-mile race in 1911, and one of the best known racing drivers in the country, recently proved, in several tests, that kerosene costing one-half as much as gasoline will give more miles per gallon; twice as much mileage, dollar for dollar; more speed; practically as good acceleration, and no more carbonization or smoking than gasoline. The tests were made under the strict observation of a writer for one of the well-known trade papers, and consisted of a cross-country run from Chicago to Indianapolis and on the Indianapolis speedway.

Special Carburetor. In his test Mr. Harroun used one of the new carburetors, on which he has been working for the past two years—so designed as to utilize kerosene as motor fuel. In travelling the 224 miles of all kinds of roads between Chicago and Indianapolis, Mr. Harroun used thirteen gallons of kerosene, testing at 43 degrees Baume, three pints of oil and two quarts of water. At an average speed of twenty miles per hour, the result shown was seventeen and one-fourth miles per gallon of kerosene, 56 miles per gallon of oil and 44.2 miles per gallon of water. In the entire run the motor did not miss once, had normal power, the smoking was barely noticeable, and in every way performed as if running on gasoline. Though slightly warmer than when gasoline was used, the motor was in no way overheated in any stage of the run.

Tried Four Fuels. On arrival at Indianapolis, further tests were made, four different fuels being used. These were kerosene testing 43 degrees, kerosene testing 42 degrees, motor spirits testing 82 degrees, and gasoline testing 60 degrees. On the first quality of kerosene, a mileage of 22.2 per gallon was attained; while gasoline produced only twenty miles per gallon. The cost of the kerosene, 3 cents per gallon, was exactly one-half of that of the gasoline. In ten miles per gallon, kerosene was again the winner, showing 26.44 as against twenty-four with gasoline. The cost per ton mile figures show .0023 cents for kerosene, and .0047 cents for gasoline. The cost per mile for kerosene was shown to be .0036 cents, and for gasoline .006 cents.

If the results of Mr. Harroun's test can be taken as a criterion, a new era can be looked for in motor fuel production. The former racing driver is planning to seek official recognition for his carburetor, by entering the same car used in these tests, in the fuel economy section of the Algonquin hill-climb. He further plans to enter this and two other cars in the Chicago-Boston non-motor-stop reliability race.

to be held in July, under the auspices of the Chicago Automobile Club. In case these entries are made, nothing but kerosene will be used for fuel. Car Performed Well. In writing his report of the tests made, the observer has the following to say concerning the car:

"Throughout the tests, both on the road and on the speedway, the little car performed in a way that reflected much credit on its staunchness. Inasmuch as the car had been driven a distance of over 1,800 miles on kerosene and various other fuels on a previous run through Indiana and Ohio, and had started in on the test from Chicago without any attention, the fact that it was seemingly in as good condition at the end of the speedway tests as in the beginning, speaks well for it."

PAPER ON WHEELS

Travelling Plant Will Produce Publication During American Automobile Association Tour.

For the National Reliability run of the American Automobile Association, which starts from Minneapolis July 11 and ends at the eastern gateway to Glacier National park July 19, 1200 miles, Louis W. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern railway, himself an enthusiastic automobilist, good roads advocate and one of the contestants in the tour, has agreed to run a palatial "automobile hotel train" without a single paid fare, in order that the motorists may have adequate eating and sleeping accommodations en route. This train will consist of sleeping cars, diners, an automobile repair car and a baggage car containing a newspaper plant, with an engraving outfit for the publication of the world's first automobile paper ever printed "on wheels." Newspaper correspondents accompanying the tour will get out this novel sheet daily during the trip.

NEVER WIPE DUST OFF

Must Be Washed Off With Heavy Stream of Water, Says Expert.

"The first thing to do in cleaning an automobile is to avoid wiping the dust from the body with a dry cloth or a wet one," says a local auto expert.

"The days are coming when automobiles will need frequent cleaning to keep them looking spic and span, but the finish will remain good for a much longer time if the cleaning is properly done. Weeks and weeks of the most painstaking effort are represented in the beautiful finish of a high-grade automobile, and a few ill-advised cleanings can ruin this effort beyond repair."

"Even the finest dust will scratch the surface of the varnish and paint that make your car look so fine, and it is worse than foolish to attempt to wipe off mud stains. The only proper way to remove dust and mud is by washing. A heavy stream of water should be the first course, and this should not strike the car with great force. It should be directed slantwise against the sides of the body, and plenty of it used. If there is much mud on the wheels or body it should be allowed to soak well and soften before a sponge is applied, and then a constant stream of

MOTOR TRUCKS WILL BE USED IN ARMY

Replacing the Old Army Mule for Transportation Methods

EUROPEAN MILITARY SHOWING THE WAY

An Example That Will Soon Be Followed by America

"The motor truck is bound to mark the passing of the army mule, just as it has begun to oust the animal's shorter-eared half-brother, the horse, from the transportation scheme of civil life," said an American auto manufacturer on his return from an extended European tour recently, in which the subject of commercial motor vehicles was closely studied. "It is no matter of months before that picturesque and faithful adjunct of our military force is relegated to the much more prosaic life of the farm. The motor truck is demonstrating its superiority over the mule or horse drawn wagon system, and the economic foresight of the war department is bound to call for its installation."

Used in Europe. "What has been and is being accomplished by European governments in the matter of army transportation can be accomplished in our own country. The possibilities of the truck in our own army schemes is made evident in the report recently made by high army officials of the war department. According to this report the total weight of supplies and impediments that must be carried with an army division of 25,000 men is 2,883,000 pounds, or a full load for 961 of such army wagons as are now used. These figures, in road space alone, show that there is a great waste with present methods. That number of wagons requires a space of approximately eleven miles on a 24-yard road, a column that is vastly too large to be economically handled. And, besides, with eleven miles of wagons occupying the roads, there is no space left, unless it is before or behind the column, for the troops.

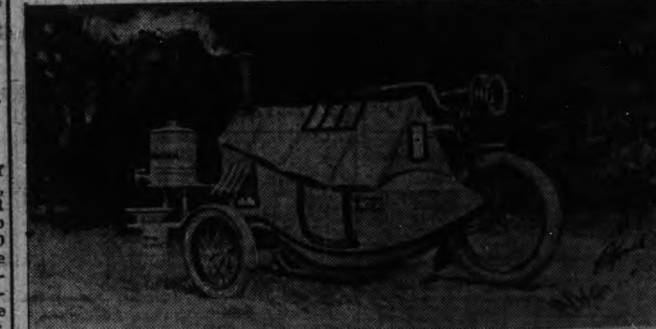

Economy of Truck. "With mule and wagon transportation the troops are confined to a movement of only about 24 miles per day, for this is the limit of distance which mules or horses can cover in a day without injury. An army cannot move faster than its supplies; therefore the men can go no further in a day than the teams can haul the wagons, though 35 to 40 miles per day is not considered a prohibitive distance for soldiers on the march.

"With truck transportation this handicap is entirely eliminated. Not only can the supplies be moved with 'half' the number of vehicles—for a motor truck will carry from two to five times as large a load as a mule wagon—thereby working a great economy in road space, but the trucks can travel at a vastly greater speed than the men. When three to five miles an hour is considered good speed for a heavily laden mule wagon, the truck can travel at the rate of 10 to 20 miles an hour, and can keep it up 24 hours a day if necessary without tiring."

THE INCREASE.

Now that the first few months of the year have passed, reports are beginning to come in from various sections of the United States, telling of increases in the automobile registrations. Missouri has come forward with the statement that on April 30 the registrations numbered 515 more than the total of 1912. The number of machines licensed so far for 1913 in Missouri is 24,894, and the receipts amount to $116,352.50, an increase of $38,173 over the 1912 total. The money goes to the state road fund, so that motorists have a double cause for rejoicing.

A great crowd is expected to meet at New Westminster next Monday to celebrate ten years of Conservatism. A few characteristics of the McBride government are herein set out which show that they should rather weep and lament than celebrate.

MENDACITY PROVED

The minister of education gave the following answer in 1910: Q. Did the letter from the superintendent of education in August, 1908, to Dr. Offerhaus contain these words?—"with reference to the awarding of the Governor-General's medals, I beg to say that these are offered to pupils of schools where there is a high school established." A. Yes. Q. Did Ladysmith get a medal in 1906-07-08? A. Yes. Q. Had a high school been established there then? A. No.

Q. Did Chilliwack get a medal in any of the years 1906-07-08? A. No. Q. Had a high school been established there for several years? A. Yes, since 1903.

FALSEHOOD

The minister of education made this false statement in 1908 to Mr. Coote—"that the Governor-General's bronze medals were given to places where there was the most competition at the high school entrance examinations."

FALSEHOOD PROVED

1. The Governor-General's bronze medal was given in 1909 to a pupil in Cumberland, whose father was a Conservative ex-M. L. A., though there was more competition at Enderby; both cities with a high school.

2. This bronze medal was given in 1907 to Golden, which had just elected a Conservative, though there was more competition at Chilliwack; both rural districts with a high school.

3. This bronze medal was taken away from Spallumcheen in 1910, where there had been a high school for years, and given to North Vancouver city, where no high school had been established and where there was less competition.

4. This bronze medal was given in 1907 to Golden, where 5 passed; but none to Spallumcheen, where 10 passed; both rural districts with a high school.

5. This bronze medal was given to Cumberland in 1911, where only 6 passed; but none to Enderby, where 8 passed; both cities with a high school.

6. A bronze medal was given to Vernon in 1910, where only 6 passed, and none to Spallumcheen, where 11 passed; both districts with a high school.

7. A bronze medal was given to Ladysmith in 1911, where only 7 passed, and none to Spallumcheen, where 16 passed; both districts with a high school.

8. A bronze medal was given to Vernon in 1910, where 6 passed, and none to Enderby, where 8 passed; both cities with a high school.

9. A bronze medal was given to Kelowna in 1908, where only 4 passed, and none to Chilliwack, where 17 passed; both cities with a high school.

10. Two bronze medals were given to North Vancouver city in 1912, where only 15 passed; but none to South Vancouver, where 75 passed on the same set of questions.

11. Two bronze medals were given to Vernon in 1912, where only 18 passed, and none to Spallumcheen, where 20 passed on the same set of questions.

12. A bronze medal was given to Prince Rupert in 1912, where only 7 passed on the rural examination, and none to South Vancouver, where 75 passed on the urban examination.

The foregoing are a few samples of this unfair distribution.

SCANDALOUS

This bronze medal was not given to the best scholar in the Spallumcheen district either in 1908 or 1909.

CHILDREN CHEATED

Anton Henderson, of Victoria, at an entrance examination was deprived by the education department of marks he had earned in Drawing. This was proved by Judge Lampman's deciding there was "no ruling" in that Drawing book, notwithstanding the sworn evidence to the contrary, produced by the education department. This pupil did the work over again in the judge's presence. The department was thus proved to be at fault, not the pupil.

TEACHER DISHONORED

The certificate of the teacher was suspended who proved that the education department's method of giving credit marks in Drawing was then so faulty, that the better a pupil could draw, the more liable he was to be condemned to the loss of his marks as a cheat.

QUIBBLING

The minister of education stated to the Legislature in 1910 that the department did not admit the unreliability of Inspector's reports as published in the Annual School Report; yet it appears therein that a teacher who died in November, 1905, is reported as "working hard for the improvement of the school" in March, 1906. There are many similar instances of unreliability.

DELIBERATE FALSEHOOD

The superintendent of education wrote on Feb. 4, 1913, that nearly all of ten questions, forwarded by the Premier, could be answered from the last Annual School Report, when he knew this was A LIE.

DISTRICTS CHEATED

The Districts printed in small letters in the Tables "B" are the ones which were entitled to get a medal according to the principle of "most competition," but have been passed over. The figures before the district indicate the amount of competition, and those after are the marks obtained by the best pupil.

ROYALTY DISHONORED

Two bronze medals were given in 1912 to each of eight cities, and thus some places visited by His Royal Highness got no medal. Burnaby, for instance, though about 500 pupils assembled to welcome him, and he led them in singing the National Anthem.

EARL GREY DISHONORED

One of his medals was given to a pupil at Trail in 1906, where there was no competition and the pupil had only 634 marks; but no medal for the best scholar in the province at Enderby, who had 842 marks, where six passed the examination; both cities without a high school.

Earl Grey had very generously that year increased the number of bronze medals to 15 yearly.

LEGISLATURE DISHONORED

The minister of education gave the following false answer in writing in reply to a written question by a member of the Legislature in 1910:

Q. Did the Superintendent of Education explain to the Provincial School Trustee Convention at Revelstoke that the Governor-General's bronze medals were given to places that sent up the most pupils at the high school entrance examinations? A. No.

$500.00 REWARD

Five hundred dollars has been waiting, since advertised last year, to be paid over to the Revelstoke Hospital when anyone will prove on oath that the minister's denial is THE TRUTH.

CORPORATIONS FAVORED

The rich E. & N. Company was given three years to hunt all over Vancouver Island for the best 20,000 acres of coal which are to be given to it when found. Last session it asked for more time, and an additional time was granted.

SETTLERS IGNORED

The settlers asked for more time than the one year originally granted them to apply for the coal under their land for which that large tract is to be given to the E. & N. Company; but it was refused.

HYPOCRITES

Because what was done in the treatment of the E. & N. case and that of the Settlers is so different from what might be expected from the talk of the government; but actions speak louder than words.

CONSERVATISM

Captain Wolley, a leading Conservative, announced from the platform at a great Conservative meeting at Sidney that he would vote Conservative even if the government were composed of YELLOW DOGS. If there are many of the same mind, it is not to be wondered that they will meet to celebrate ten years of Conservatism even in the face of the facts set out herein.

NO MANLINESS

Is not the Premier an object of pity, since he does neither protect British Columbia from such repeated disgrace, nor prevent the Governor-General's bronze medals from being awarded to the children of the public schools in such an unfair manner, year after year?

On behalf of the pupils of the public schools of British Columbia,

TWELVE YEARS' HORRIBLE TORTURE

Ontario Lady Suffered Tortures for 12 Years with Burning Eczema, "Fruit-a-tives" and "Sootha-Salva" Completely Cured Her.

MISS LAURA E. MATTICE

NEWINGTON, ONT., Jan. 21, 1913.

"I was a dreadful sufferer from that awful complaint Eczema, or Salt Rheum, and this trouble bothered me for about 12 years. My hands and arms were chiefly attacked, and the pain and irritation were terrible. I consulted several doctors and tried every remedy I heard of, but nothing did me any good. Last June, when in Ottawa, a friend asked me to try 'Sootha-Salva' Ointment and to take 'Fruit-a-tives' at the same time. I had little hopes that this would be any better than the other remedies, but after I had taken two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and used one box of 'Sootha-Salva' I was entirely cured and all the irritation and annoyance left me. My hands have been, ever since, perfectly free from the Salt Rheum, and I have had no return of the disease. I look upon the cure as wonderful, inasmuch as no physician was able to cure me, and I had tried every remedy that I had been told about, yet without the slightest benefit, until I used 'Sootha-Salva' Ointment and took 'Fruit-a-tives.' 'Fruit-a-tives' cooled the blood, and practically relieved the disease and the Ointment completed the cure.

"I cannot sufficiently thank the proprietors of these medicines for my relief and I make this statement with the hope that some sufferers from Chronic Eczema or Salt Rheum will read my testimony and try this wonderful Ointment and 'Fruit-a-tives,' and get well. No one can estimate the torture of this terrible disease who has not suffered from it, and I want the good news, that a remedy has been found, to be known everywhere.

(Miss) LAURA E. MATTICE.

"Fruit-a-tives" and "Sootha-Salva" will cure any case of Eczema, no matter how severe or how long you have suffered. Eczema is caused by impure blood, chronic indigestion, constipation and nervousness, but there is usually a tiny parasite or germ which attacks the skin and causes the burning and itching. "Fruit-a-tives" removes all impurities from the blood, tones up the stomach, improves digestion, and regulates the bowels. "Sootha-Salva" kills the germs of Eczema, allays the burning and inflammation, and stops the intense itching. If you are suffering with Eczema, no matter what you have tried for it, take the advice of Miss Mattice and use the wonderful combination of "Fruit-a-tives" and "Sootha-Salva."

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. "Sootha-Salva" is 50c box. Sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Madame Nazimova.

Many and varied are the roles which Madame Nazimova, the talented Russian actress has played since she learned the English language and became one of the foremost of the English-speaking actresses, but she has never in the past seven years had a part which called for greater artistry than does that of Mrs. Chepstow, Bella Donna, in the adaptation which James Bernard Fagan has made from the novel of the same name by Robert Hichens. The part affords the actress tremendous latitude and scope and she touches every string in the entire gamut of the human passions. This play is one of the big dramatic sensations of the present year in this country. Charles Frohman has seen that Madame Nazimova's supporting company is exceptionally strong. "Bella Donna" will be at the Victoria theatre June 2.

Empress Theatre.

New talking-moving pictures will be among the attractions on the Empress theatre bill next week; this popularity having been firmly established during the opening presentation this week. J. Herbert Frank, the well-known legitimate actor, has a sketch that is considered a masterpiece. With Roland West he has turned out one of the most gripping and intensely dramatic tabloids. All the thrilling scenes to be found in the large productions have been boiled down into twenty minutes of swift dramatic action. T. S. James and John Daly are in the cast.

Nothing is quite so funny as a good rube, except two good rubes. Creighton brothers are a pair of good rubes, with a wealth of quaint material, dances and fol-de-rol. Their make-up, squeaking voices and general ridiculous antics are extremely humorous.

Hugh Fay and Elsie Myan are two musical comedy favorites. Miss Myan was a member of "The Prince of Posen" and "A Charming Honeycomb," while Mr. Fay was a member of "The Three Twins" and supported Raymond Hitchcock, Elsie Janis and others.

Albert Leonard is a novelty descriptive dancer who has danced his way into fame. Lohse and Sterling present a remarkable gymnastic performance on the high bars, daring death a hundred times.

Pollards Coming.

The Pollard Australian Opera Company booked for a return engagement at the Victoria theatre for five nights, beginning Tuesday evening next, presenting the best of all opera comiques, "The Toy-Maker of Nuremberg," which made such a decided impression here earlier in the season. All of the old Pollard favorites are coming for this engagement, including Teddy McNamara, Eva Pollard, Queenie Williams, Patti Hill, Nellie McNamara and forty others from Australia. "The story of 'The Toy-Maker of Nuremberg' is clever and well constructed, and the lyrics are most tuneful. The comedy element reigns supreme and as performed by the Pollard stars forms an irresistible combination. The engagement will be presented here at popular prices and a special matinee will be given on Saturday, giving the little folks an opportunity of enjoying the delights of 'The Toy-Maker.' Princess Theatre.

"La Belle Marie" will be put on at the Princess theatre the coming week. The Williams management has never since its opening here repeated a play.

but the requests for the revival of this beautiful bill have been so insistent and frequent that Mr. Williams has made up his mind to break through the rule and repeat it. Miss Paga will play the dual role of Jean Ingelside and La Belle Marie, a part in which she was at her best and one in which she made many friends when the company put on this as its third play two years ago. Miss Merriott should make a charming Grace Leighton. Mr. By-production should be one of the most attractive yet offered.

Eddie Foy.

Eddie Foy, known from coast to coast as one of America's funniest entertainers, will appear at the Victoria theatre on June 12 in "Over the River," a new musical farce direct from six months on Broadway. Werbe and Luescher have provided their star with a play that fits him with a glove-like nicety, enabling him to appear at his funniest and best. "Over the River" is a musicalized version of one of the cleverest of American plays. Every act is filled with rich comedy situations and interlarded with song hits. It is also the first show with a "cabaret" scene. The Foy children, seven in number, will appear during the action of the play.

Frances Starr.

Frances Starr has come to be known as perhaps the most popular of the younger stars on the American stage, and it is pleasant news to learn that ton Aldenn will again play Earl Leighton. Mr. Belasco is cast for George. Mr. Charles Connors, who is known here from his connection with the Allen players, will play John Ingelside and the rest of the cast will be in competent hands. La Belle Marie is one of the prettiest plays ever put on by the company, and as the members will be quite at home in their efforts the

she is to come to this city in her new play, "The Cat of Becky," which has just closed a very successful engagement of three months at the Belasco

EXTRACT FROM "BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL" March 23, 1907.

"A Most Valuable Food"

At a time when the preparation of artificial foodstuffs is receiving more attention than ever before, and when new forms of easily assimilable fat to take the place of cod liver oil are being frequently brought to the notice of the medical profession, it is desirable that some of the older forms of administering natural fats should not be lost sight of. Among natural fats, butter easily takes the first place for nutritive value, and when combined with a suitable soluble carbohydrate, a most valuable food is produced.

The BUTTER SCOTCH which Messrs. Allard & Bower (Duke's Road, Euston Road, W. C.) have prepared for fifty years, is such an article, which has the great advantage of being palatable, so palatable, in fact, that children are more likely to need restraining from excess than any preparation to take it. This BUTTER SCOTCH is stated to contain 11.7 per cent. of fat and 7.3 per cent. of sugar, and the results of an analysis which we have made recently of a specimen substantially confirm these figures. Further chemical examination of the fat extracted showed it to be genuine butter fat. This confection can therefore be recommended, not only as a harmless sweetmeat, but also as a very useful addition to the diet in suitable cases. In all the Principal candy stores in Victoria.

Had No Faith In GIN PILLS But a Single Pill Convinced Him

GIN PILLS are particularly good for Kidney and Bladder troubles. Every ingredient in them helps to cure these diseases, no matter how slightly they are affecting the patient, or how long they have tortured the sufferer. Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder are prevalent the whole year, especially in Fall, Winter and Spring. But with such a remedy as GIN PILLS at hand you may be free from such troubles at all seasons of the year.

People who have endured Kidney and Bladder troubles and who have been cured are glad to tell you here what GIN PILLS have done for them.

Here are points which signify the Kidneys are not right.

That twinge in the small of the back, that dull aching pain over the Kidneys, a drawn feeling in the tender part of your back where your backbone and ribs join. Two sore spots over the Kidneys.

Raised from Invalid's Bed.

Perth, N. B. For two years I was an invalid, incapable of work of any kind, sixteen months of this time I was unable to move without the assistance of a crutch and a cane. During this time I was treated by all our local doctors as well as a long treatment from a specialist in Chicago, but did not improve any, nor had about given up hope of ever being of any use again, when a friend advised me to try GIN PILLS. This I did, and with a two months' treatment was as well as ever I was. This was four years ago, and I have had no return of my trouble since.

I still use a box or two a year as a preventative and am enabled to go fishing and shooting in the Spring and Fall, and lay out on the ground at night without any inconvenience. It is a wonderful medicine and take great pleasure in recommending it to all sufferers from Rheumatism.

AL. C. W. STEVENSON.

A Single Pill Gave Great Relief.

Pittsfield, Que.

I have suffered from Kidney Trouble for several years. I have tried numerous remedies and used medical prescriptions without having permanent relief, my case being chronic. After seeing your advertisement for "GIN PILLS" and as it is a known fact that Juniper with no alcohol is excellent for Kidneys, I decided to try your "GIN PILLS," although having but little faith in same.

One single Pill taken from sample packet gave me a great relief. Since I have taken almost four boxes of these Pills and I find myself completely cured. Notwithstanding I will continue to take those pills for a while yet.

No more bad humor, increase in weight, clear eyes, fresh and ruddy coloring, more will, more strength and vigor.

This is what the "GIN PILLS" have made for me. I can now use my bicycle and bend with no pains.

VIEW ROYAL

Esquimalt's Waterfront Park

VIEW ROYAL

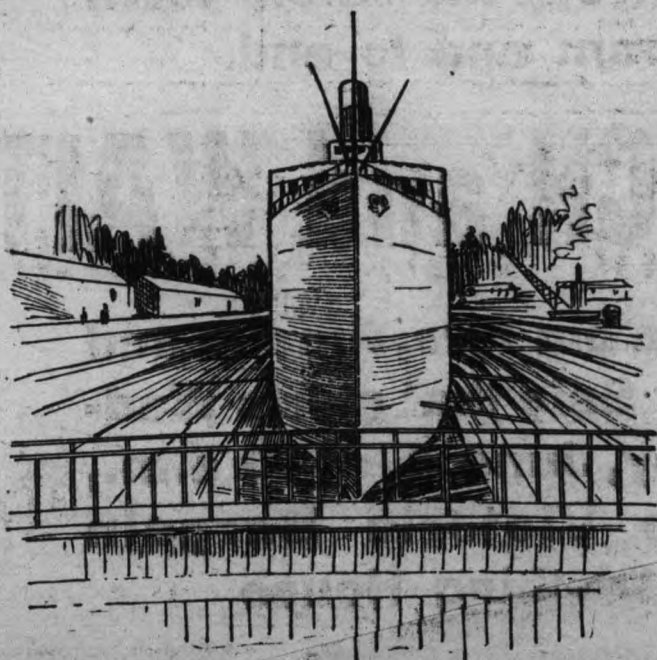

H. G. Barnard M.P.
on Esquimalt
Drydock

"With respect to the drydock, the speaker said that Esquimalt was specifically fixed as its site. (Cheers) What this meant most thinking people must know. It made sure Victoria's ambition to become the centre of the shipbuilding trade of the Province. It assured Esquimalt being maintained as the Pacific naval base. It was a guarantee that the fortified adjacent port would be continued as such, and that there would be maintained here a permanent contingent of troops. (Cheers)." — Colonist.

This plan gives an accurate conception of our Esquimalt Harbor subdivision. It is the most beautifully situated property on that large land-locked body of water. Sloping gently to fine beaches or attractive bays, cleared in parts and in others shaded to just the right extent with Douglas fir, and offering a glorious view from any point of the picturesque and historic harbor, with the Olympic mountains in the distance, it has an irresistible appeal. All we ask is an opportunity to show it. The property, the prices and the terms will do the rest.

View Royal is within easy walking distance of the Gorge carline—Victoria's finest homesteads are locating miles beyond it—Hatley Park, Hon. James Dunsmuir's residence, is one illustration. A motor-boat or a row-boat puts a party on the Esquimalt car in short order. The E. & N. Railway runs through it, and the C.N.P. is just about as close. Besides authoritative report has it that either both or one of these railroads is to be electrified at least as far as the new Colwood Country Club, in which event there would be a service that would bring the subdivision's residents within few minutes of Post Office.

We draw special attention to the property's investment advantages. The Dominion Government has decided to construct one of the world's largest dry docks within a short distance. Within a few hundred yards the E. & N. Railway has established terminals, from which a ferry even now is making daily trips. Esquimalt Harbor is of such importance commercially that it cannot be overlooked. View Royal owners will be able to sell out at a substantial profit either in the immediate or the not distant future.

PANAMA AND SOUTH AMERICA

OBSERVATIONS AND IMPRESSIONS

BY RIGHT HON. JAMES BRYCE

(By special arrangement with the publishers.)

X—BRAZIL, LARGEST OF SOUTH AMERICAN NATIONS

A Country That is the Richest in the World in Natural Resources; and "How Men From the Mississippi Would Make Things Hum Along the Amazon and the Parana."

The area of Brazil is about 3,300,000 square miles, larger than that of the United States, and more than double that of India. Most of its territory is inhabited only by aboriginal Indians, many of them wild savages, and a good deal is still practically unexplored.

It is geologically one of the oldest parts of the South American continent. The mountains which form its central nucleus stood where they stand now long before the great volcanoes of the Andes had been raised. This mountain centre of the country falls abruptly on the east to the Atlantic, more gently on the west towards the level ground in the middle of the continent. It may be roughly described as an undulating plateau, 800 miles long by 300 broad, traversed by various ranges which are seldom of great height.

The scenery of their richly wooded eastern side, where they break down steeply towards the Atlantic, is as beautiful as can be found anywhere in the tropics. They are continued northward and southward in lower hills, and on the west subside gently, sometimes in long slopes, sometimes in a succession of broad terraces, into a vast plain, only slightly raised above sea-level. In this plain, still imperfectly explored, Brazil touches Paraguay and Bolivia.

The inland regions, both highlands and plains, are less humid and, therefore, less densely wooded than is the line of mountains which faces the At-

Montevideo, capital of Uruguay, rounding a lofty cape, turned her prow shoreward to enter the harbor of Santos (some 300 odd miles below Rio Janeiro), how unlike was the landscape to any which we had seen since passing the equator at the northern extremity of Peru. All down the west coast there had been a mostly barren coast with cold grey clouds over a cold grey sea. But here at last were the tropics. Here was the region of abundant and luxuriant vegetation, a soft, moist air and a sea of vivid blue, with the strange, thin-bodied, long-winged frigate birds hovering above it.

Moving slowly up the winding channel into smooth water, we found many British and German ships lying at the wharves, for the harbor has now been so deepened as to admit large steamships, and its improvements, accompanied by draining operations, have made the place reasonably healthy.

Twenty years ago it was a nest of yellow fever. I was told that once, during an epidemic of that plague, forty-three British ships were lying idle in the river with their crews all dead or dying. Now the disease has practically disappeared, and the port is one of the busiest in South America, since it is the exporting centre for the produce of the vast coffee country which lies inland. All day long, and during the night, too, at some seasons, an endless string of stalwart porters may be seen carrying sacks of coffee from the railroad cars on the wharf to the ships lying alongside.

A Remarkable Railway. Such a trade gives plenty of traffic to the railway which connects the coffee-planting interior and the thriving city of Sao Paulo with the sea. It is quite a remarkable railway. There lies behind this part of the Brazilian coast a plateau, here averaging from 2,500 to 3,000 feet in height, which breaks down abruptly to the sea. To reach the plateau from the flats at sea-level it was necessary to ascend some 2,500 feet, and this had to be done in a distance of about six miles, which means an average gradient of about to each ascending and descending train, but also by the simultaneous descent and ascent of trains each way, and other devices too numerous to describe. These, taken together, are sufficient to ensure perfect safety.

It has been the best-paying line, next the population of Rio de Janeiro. It is one of the oldest towns in the country, founded in 1552 by a Jesuit missionary. The early settlers, many of whom intermarried with the native Indians, became the parents of a singularly bold and energetic race, who, in their search for gold and silver, explored the land and raided the Indians and whites, too. In these ways, all the way down from here to the Uruguay and Parana rivers.

Negroes are comparatively few; it is these Italians that do the most and the best of the work. The larger business, both commercial and industrial, for there are now a good many factories, is chiefly in the hands of foreigners, Italians, Germans and English, with a few French, a state of things which accelerates material progress. The state is not only the most prosperous, but politically the most influential in the republic. One way or another, what with Paulistas and foreigners, city and state are vigorous communities, and to see them disburse the treasure of the common belief that the South American states are slack and inert.

How is one to describe Rio? Its bay has been compared to the bays of San Francisco, of Palermo, of Sydney, of San Francisco, of Hongkong, and of Bombay, as well as to the Bosporus. It is shells of rock. Thus Rio stands hemmed in between mountains and bays. There is hardly a spot where, looking up or down a street, one does not see the vista closed either by the waving green of forest or the sparkling blue of sea.

Things to Dream Of, Not to Tell. Other cities there are where mountains rising around form a noble backdrop and refresh the heart of such town dwellers as have learnt to love them. Such cities are Athens and Smyrna, Genoa and Palermo, San Francisco and Santiago de Chile. But in Rio the mountains seem to be almost part of the city, for it clings and below laps round the capes that project into the bay.

Nor does one see elsewhere such weird forms rising directly from the yards and gardens of the houses. One can hardly take one's eyes off the two strange and grotesque, which are also the most prominent in every respect. The Pan de Azucar (Sugar Loaf) is a cone of bare granite, so steep as to be scaleable at one point only by the boldest climbers, which stands on the ridge between the bay and the ocean. The other peak is the still loftier Corcovado, a vertical shaft of rock which springs right out of the houses to a height of over two thousand three hundred feet.

Such strange mountain forms give to the landscape of the city a sort of bizarre air. They are things to dream of, not to tell. Yet the grotesqueness of the shapes is lost in the splendour of the whole—a flood of sunshine, a strand of dazzling white, a sea of turquoise blue, a feathery forest ready to fall from its cliff upon the city in a cascade of living green.

Brazil's Modern Capital. It is hard for man to make any city worthy of such surroundings as Nature has given to Rio. Except for two or three old-fashioned streets, in the business quarter near the port and arsenal, it is all modern, and such picturesqueness as there is belongs to the varying lines of shore and hill, and to the interspersed gardens.

A handsome modern thoroughfare, the Avenida Central, has been run through what used to be a crowded mass of mean houses, and it has the gay effectiveness of a Parisian boulevard. Villas surrounded by trees crown the hills that rise here and there; and one street is lined by two magnificent rows of Royal palms, their stems straight and smooth as marble pillars, crested by plumes of foliage. At the east end of the city the semi-circular bay of Botafogo is surrounded by a superb palm-planted esplanade, whose parapet commands the finest general view over the entrance to the

of four hundred thousand inhabitants. It stands upon several hills, from the highest of which there are charming views to the picturesque ranges to the north and along the valley of its river, the Tiete. The city has grown so fast as to show few traces of its antiquity, except in the centre, where the narrow and crooked streets of the business quarter have a picturesque variety rarely found in the rectangular towns of the New World. The alert faces and the air of stir and movement, as well as the handsome public buildings rising on all hands, give the impression of energy and progress.

Many immigrants from Italy have in the last decade entered the state and the city, and now by their labor contribute largely to the prosperity of both.

lantic, the climate steadily growing drier as one goes inland from the rain-laving ocean. Large parts of them are believed to be fit only for ranching.

A Vast Tropical Wilderness.

There remains another and still larger region which lies in the north-west part of the republic: I mean the vast plain of the Amazon and its tributaries. It is the so-called Selvas, or woodland country, covered everywhere by a dense forest and for part of the year so flooded by the tropical rains which raise its rivers above their banks that much of it can be traversed only in boats. Except for a few white settlements here and there, its sole inhabitants are the uncivilized Indian tribes, of whom there may be several hundred thousands in all, a number very small when compared to the space over which they are scattered. The reader will have gathered that the whole eastern part of Brazil is mountainous or undulating, with here and there wide valleys. All this country is valuable either for cultivation, for pasture, or for timber, and it contains rich mines. The western part and the whole plain of the Amazon and its tributaries is practically quite flat, and most of it is a forest wilderness. Though there are some arid districts along the coast north and south of the mouth of the Amazon, there are nowhere in Brazil such deserts as those which cover so large a space in Peru, Bolivia, Chile, and Argentina. The only parts that are as yet comparatively well-peopled are the coast strip and the fertile valleys debouching on that strip, some inland districts in the state of Minas Geraes (lying north of Rio Janeiro), and in the southern states of Sao Paulo, Santa Catharina, and Rio Grande do Sul. Even in these the population is still far below the capacities of the country.

Secret of Mysterious Power Revealed at Last

How Prominent People Have Gained Wealth and Popularity

Famous Hypnotist Perfects Simple Method that Enables Anyone to Control Thoughts and Acts of Others; Cure Disease and Habits Without Drugs, and Read the Secret Desires of People Though Thousands of Miles Away

Wonderful Book Describing This Strange Force and a Character Delineation Post Free to All Who Write at Once

The National Institute of Sciences has appropriated $25,000 toward a fund for the free distribution of Prof. Knowles' new book, "The Key to the Development of the Inner Forces." The book lays bare many astounding facts concerning the practical use of Eastern Yogis, and explains a wonderful system for the development of Personal Magnetism, Hypnotic and Telepathic Powers, and the curing of diseases and habits without drugs. The subject of practical character reading is also extensively dealt with, and the author describes a simple method of mentally reading the secret thoughts and desires of others through the medium of a mirror. The almost endless stream of letters requesting copies of the book and character delineations indicate clearly the universal interest in Psychological and Occult Sciences.

"Rich and poor alike benefit by the teachings of this new system," says Prof. Knowles, "and the person who wishes to achieve greater success has but to apply the simple rules laid down." That many wealthy and prominent people owe their success to the power of Personal Influence and that there is not the slightest doubt, but the great mass of people have remained in utter ignorance of these phenomena. The National Institute of Science has therefore undertaken the somewhat arduous task of distributing broadcast, without regard for class or creed, the information heretofore possessed by the few. In addition to supplying the book free, each person who writes at once will also receive a character delineation of from 400 to 500 words as prepared by Prof. Knowles. It will be a copy of Prof. Knowles' book and a Character Delineation, simply by the following verse in your own handwriting:

"I want power of mind, Force and strength in my look, Please read my character And send me your book."

Also send your full name and address (state whether Mr., Mrs., or Miss), write plainly and address you letter to: National Institute of Science, Dept. 355 E., No. 335, Westminster Bridge Road, London, S.E. Eng. If you wish your name enclosed to cents (stamp of your own country) to pay postage, etc.

BIRTHDAY CALENDAR

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Some trials await you, and your best preparation will be to give some attention to your health and strength, and in the acquiring of a quiet mental poise. Strife and arguments waste your time.

Those born to-day will be naturally careless and foolhardy. They can be made to understand the difference between this and true courage, and some of them will distinguish themselves in military and other active careers.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

In the year 1885 the Marquis de Denonville was appointed governor of New France. He was a courtier, a soldier of large experience, and withal a man of a high renown for probity, honor, and piety. The Jesuits were delighted at his coming, and others expected great things of him. But the hostility of the Iroquois, supported by Donigan, the energetic, intriguing governor of New York, wrecked his reputation. In his attempt to meet cunning with cunning, Denonville committed a shocking act of treachery and over-reached himself. Inviting about a hundred Iroquois living near Cataract to a feast at the fort, he had them seized and bound to posts, where he kept them without food or shelter for several days, before sending them in chains to work in the galleys of France. After this, he led an expedition into the Iroquois country to devastate their crops and destroy their buildings. Next he had recourse to a treaty, but a Huron Indian contrived to "kill the peace." The frightful tragedy of the massacre of Lachine followed, but the royal letter, dated May 31st, 1885, recalling Denonville was already on its way, and in October this valiant, resourceful Frontenac took the reins of government from his feeble hands.

This year marks the semi-centennial of the first convention of the Fenian Brotherhood in America, but it was not until 1866, when there were said to be 300,000 Fenians in the United States, that the much-discussed threat of an invasion of Canada reached the stage of action. An "army" of 1,200 hot-blooded Irishmen assembled in Buffalo, and, forty-seven years ago to-night, crossed the Niagara into Canada. Fort Erie, the last of the Fenian invasions, was easily routed. The agitation was kept up for some years, but subsequent invasions, like the first, were speedily turned back. Ridpath, the American historian, dismisses the subject with these words: "Viewed philosophically, we might say that the movement was doomed to failure by the fact that Irish men generally possess the heat of fight, but not the fire of battle. The Irish, under competent leadership, make great soldiers, but as a rule, their insurrections have about them the suggestion of clubs and pitchforks rather than swords and cannon."

To-day is the anniversary of the birth of Baron Pierre, famous ship-builder, at Quebec, 1824, of Hewitt Ross, senator from British Columbia, 1884; and of Sophia Almon Hensley, lecturer and social problems, in Nova Scotia, 1806.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

If William Rockefeller had been a ball player instead of an oil magnate, the fans would have dubbed him "Noisy Bill," because of his deep-seated prejudice against loquaciousity. The president of the Standard Oil Company, of New York, is the younger brother of the great John D., although not so very young at that, since he will celebrate his seventy-second birthday to-day. Brother William has always disliked the limelight, and usually managed to keep out of it until recently, when he was cast for the role of subpoena dodger in the stirring drama of "Jekyll Island and Mr. Hyde." While his nephew, John D., Jr., believes in the efficacy of prayer, Uncle William puts his trust in human ingenuity, boundless wealth and back doors, and managed to elude the unwelcome attentions of the sleuths for forty days and forty nights. William was a produce commission merchant before he joined Brother John in the oil business, and since 1865 he has been the head of the New York business, and has long been a power in the street. William has untold wealth, an acidulous disposition, the ability to remain silent in a dozen different languages, and a fondness for speculation. In most ways he is the exact opposite of Brother John, and, while they agree on the desirability of annexing everything that is not nailed down, they long ago agreed to disagree on everything else. William has two sons and two daughters and five grandchildren to inherit his fortune when he is called to his reward.

In the list of speakers for the great Presbyterian congress opening to-day in Toronto there appears the name of the Rev. Charles W. Gordon, of Winnipeg. This is the "really, truly" name of "Ralph Connor," famous throughout the English-speaking world as the author of "Black Rock," "The Sky Pilot" and other novels. The Rev. Mr. Gordon commenced his career as a missionary among the miners and lumber jacks of Western Canada, and his experiences provided the material for many thrilling tales. For nearly 20 years he has been minister of a Winnipeg church.

A number of prominent Englishmen whose fame has extended across the Atlantic will be the recipients of birthday congratulations to-day. The Duke of Devonshire passed his forty-fifth milestone to-day. He is one of the richest men in England, and owns a large part of London, several magnificent residences, and 196,000 acres of land. Lord Arthur Hugh Grosvenor, uncle and heir-presumptive to the Duke of Westminster, is fifty-three to-day. The Duke of Westminster, who owns 600 acres in the heart of London and 30,000 acres elsewhere, lost his heir, a boy of seven, about two years ago. Col. Rt. Hon. John Edward Bernard Beely, British secretary of state for war, is forty-five to-day. He has been a leader in the movement for increasing Britain's aerial navy, and believes that the sky craft will play an important part in the next great war. Lord Glenconner, who, as Sir Edward Tennant, was long a distinguished member of Commons, is fifty-four to-day. His lordship is a brother-in-law of Premier Asquith. He is usually a healthy and a liberal contributor to the Liberal party's strong box, but of late he has embarrassed the government by his fervent advocacy of universal military service. The legal open season for straws. For a time the dictators of fashion held out, but in the end they offered to compromise by opening the straw hat season on the first of June and extending it to the first of October. This is now the law of the fashionables, but in many cities the hot polloi have made the fifteenth of May the beginning of the open season; but let a man appear under a straw lid before that date, and he is rent asunder, figuratively speaking.

That many men still cling to the first of June as "straw hat day" is the experience of local dealers, who are expecting a big rush of buyers to-day. For several days every window in which straws are displayed has been a magnet for masculine window shoppers. The brisk business in straws is considered a sure sign of prosperity by merchants, who say that in hard times men hunt up their old straw hats and have them cleaned, instead of buying new ones.

The so-called "Panama" lids—although few come from Panama—are still popular, but they have ceased to be a fad, and in consequence the prices range much lower this year than when they were first introduced. The quotations for the genuine Panama range from $5 upward, although many coarse imitations sell for less. The manufacture of Panama hats in Central America and Colombia is almost entirely carried on by women. "The palm leaf from which they are made is called 'Junco,'" says a bulletin of the Pan-American Union. "The most tender leaves are selected and exposed to sulphur smoke, moisture and the rays of the sun. The price is about 18 cents, for two donkey leaves, the amount needed for one hat. It takes about two weeks to make an ordinary hat and one month to make a fine one. The makers receive from $1.20 to $14, according to quality. They are made during the wet season, as the straw breaks during the dry."

SCRAP BOOK.

Open Season for Straw "Lids" is Gradually Being Extended.

If the weather is propitious, tomorrow will be observed as "straw hat day" by such male citizens as are strict conformers to the dictates of fashion. True, the straw "lids" have been on display in the shop windows for some time, and to many men the 1913 summer top-piece is already an old story. A great deal of healthy, new permitted in the wearing of straw hats, and it is now possible to wear such headgear before the first of June without incurring social ostracism or being subjected to the jeers and missiles of rowdies. Even the moving up of "straw hat day" to the first of June is a comparatively recent concession, for in the old days the time limit was confined to the three months between June 15 and September 15. This was the dictum of New York fashionables, and was accepted as law throughout the United States and Canada by all "well dressers." Gradually there arose a spirit of revolt among men who held the anarchistic doctrine that straw hats were made to be worn when the weather was suitable, without regard to the calendar. These pioneers, who were often martyrs, bravely risking the penalty of a too bold defiance of the conventions and the unwritten law, were at first greeted by hoots and stone vegetables. They persisted, and in the end they won the respect and gratitude of the multitude of men who had formerly sweltered in derbies and felts until the beginning of

GOOD BATTING BY THE B. C. CRICKETERS

Scored 119 Before Being Dismissed This Morning—A Good Game

The representative British Columbia eleven played much better to the Australian bowling this morning than have either of the other elevens pitted against them this week. In scoring 115 runs on a crumbling wicket, and against bowlers of the calibre of Crawford, Macartney and Malley, they accomplished a feat deserving of the highest congratulations.

The hero of the morning was Curgenven, who played a sterling innings of 39 runs, in which score was included four hits to the boundary, two threes, and three twos. Everything considered, the contribution was a most valuable one to his side, and the batsman well deserved the applause which greeted him on his return to the pavilion.

J. N. Crawford was again the bowler to do the most damage. His pace and the manner in which he made the ball whip back were always dangerous. L. A. Cody, who was kept on for a good part of the morning, was hit hard without securing a wicket. Collins as usual bowled a couple of overs without result.

In addition to the fine performance of Curgenven, Ackroyd, L. S. V. York, Sparks and Orr also distinguished themselves with the bat, and faced the dangerous bowling confidently.

The fielding of the Australians was not so snappy as usual at the beginning of the match, but as the morning wore on there was little fault to be found. Warren Bardsley was the star performer in the field, with Crawford pressing him close.

The game began at 10.45, and the British Columbia captain sent in Ackroyd and Beecham to be opposed by Collins and Crawford.

Crawford opened with a maiden to Ackroyd, but Beecham found a short pitched ball from Collins, which he dispatched for a couple. The same batsman was again in the picture with a pretty shot to the on for two. Ackroyd emulated his partner by cracking out a couple of boundaries.

Emery replaced Crawford at the rear end and bowled Beecham one for 15.

Curgenven filled the gap. With hard drives the Cowichan player rapped out 2, 3 and 4 and soon afterwards gave a hard chance to Captain Diamond at square leg. It was not accepted.

After Ackroyd had smashed Emery once to the rails the same bowler got his wicket with a swerving ball that knocked back the off peg 2 for 38, Ackroyd, who had played a faultless innings, scored three 4's and a three in a contribution of 18.

Curgenven in Form.

L. S. V. York was next in to partner Curgenven, who was in great form. The bowling seemed to present few terrors for him. He knocked out 4 with a fine straight drive and followed this up with a lofty hit that reached the boundary in a hurry. York earned applause by a well-timed hit to leg that reached the grandstand.

Malley went on to bowl at 50, and straightaway Curgenven hit him twice to the boundary. Emery grazed the varnish off the leg-stump with a ball that had York beaten a mile. Herp abouts Malley was getting a tremendous lot of work on the ball and had Curgenven in difficulties on two occasions. The third ball of the over, however, played rings around the Cowichan batsman and spreadeagled the wickets 3 for 63.

Peers, the Vancouver captain who followed, was out in most peculiar fashion. He played a fast one from Emery, but so great was the spin that the ball curled back, and in attempting to prevent it reaching the stump he hit the wickets with his bat and had to go—4 for 63.

F. A. Sparks came in and almost immediately afterwards Crawford came on again, vice Emery. Bardsley earned applause by a fine bit of fielding, and soon afterwards L. S. V. York, who had played with wonderful steadiness, was clean bowled after scoring 14. Sparks and Orr were partners for some time, and both played good cricket, the score rising steadily. A 4 and a 2 by Orr sent up 90 on the score board.

With the score at 104, Diamond gave Sparks a life, falling to hold a soft chance off Macartney's bowling. Just afterwards, however, he played on—104 for 6. Carr did not stay long, being clean bowled by Crawford, while Murphy was caught at mid-on by Malley.

The innings came to an end when Crawford, who was now sending down some good stuff, clean bowled Orr.

MANUFACTURES EXHIBIT.

Manufacturers Have Been Requested to Respond by Tuesday.

The response has been very satisfactory to the appeal issued by the board of trade to local manufacturers to support the exhibit of Victoria manufactures at the fall exhibition.

The appeal which was issued by the council on Tuesday will close on Tuesday next, and manufacturers have been asked to return the cards whether they intend to take space or not, so that the council of the board may deal with the matter, through the committee appointed to confer on the subject. The amount of space taken will strengthen the hands of the committee in applying to the city council for a grant towards the cost of construction of a special building at the fair grounds.

A Demonstration Interesting Women Will Commence on Monday, June 2nd, In Our Store on the Subject of Pond's Tampons

Pond's Tampons constitute a form of treatment which has been universally employed and endorsed by leading physicians. For over six years the medical profession has demonstrated the power of this simple, commonsense form of treatment to relieve and, in many cases completely cure, those distressing headaches, backaches and general nervous breakdowns peculiar to women.

The time has come when the originators of POND'S TAMPONS feel absolutely justified in their decision to place this wonderful system within the reach of every wife, mother and daughter. They believe that when modest women realize how much of unnecessary suffering can be prevented, how many cases of terror-inspiring surgical operations can be avoided, and how many women can be restored and kept in a glorious vibrant, beauty-bringing condition of health by this simple, inexpensive, painless home treatment, that a supply of Pond's Tampons will be kept in every home in the land. Do not fail to visit this demonstration. It lasts all next week. If you cannot visit us during the demonstration, ask some one in our Drug Department to give you a booklet of interesting information about Pond's Tampons.

Demonstration on first floor—near elevator.

HEADWAY IN WHEAT IS SLIGHT AT CHICAGO

Blistering Weather Causes Damage in Kansas to the Growing Crop

Chicago, May 31.—There was not as much headway in this wheat advance to-day as the character of news suggested. Latest advices from Illinois and the southwest are the worst he has yet seen in B. W. Snow, who was inclined to make light of the Kansas damage claims up to two days ago, is now conceding that the blistering hot weather over the southwest is having a bad effect on the growing crop. The front Oklahoma to Nebraska to-day were most bullish. There was a strong wave of buying at the opening because the West was without needed rains. Top prices for the season were recorded in the early session swell. The St. Louis modern miller backed up the private crop damage claims from the southwest in its weekly report, conceding a change in appearance of the plant, making it look thin and of poor color. Shipping sales reported 260,000 at the close. There is a very strong tone to both northwest and southwest markets. The whole question of higher or lower prices morning will turn on temperature and precipitation over the western winter wheat belt with the indication at this writing of a continuation of the bullish crop outlook.

WILL TELL THE PUBLIC.

Carnival Committee Will Hold Public Meeting Tuesday to Explain Plans.

The general committee of the Victoria Citizens' committee decided last night to have a special delegation at the Portland Rose Festival on June 11 to advertise Victoria Carnival Week. Over 300,000 visitors annually attend the Portland Rose Festival, hence much publicity is expected from the Victoria Citizens' committee's float, which will be in the form of a yacht. It will be used in the principal parade. The programme so far arranged for Carnival Week was laid before the members who were present at last night's meeting.

The committee is arranging for a public meeting to be held on Tuesday night June 3, when a full account of the work so far done will be made.

In less than half a generation, the tonnage of the largest ships afloat has increased more than 25 times.

AFFILIATION IN W. C. T. U.

Central Union Joins Forces With Provincial; Convention Delegates Appointed.

At the adjourned annual meeting of the Central W. C. T. U. yesterday afternoon, the president, Mrs. Williams, in the chair, Mrs. Frank Andrews read the treasurer's report, showing that there was a balance of $165 from the past year's work. Of this sum $50 was voted by the meeting to the building fund, and $10 toward Miss Macleod's expenses during her recent lecture visit here.

The Central Union decided to affiliate with the provincial union with 110 members, this number being less than last year owing to the number of new branches which have been formed during the past few months during the city each with their own representatives. Mrs. A. E. Mitchell gave a good report on moral education at yesterday's proceedings, and it was decided to have a circulating library of the best books obtainable on temperance, moral reform, etc.

The following delegates were appointed to attend the convention of the provincial W. C. T. U. to be held from June 16 to 19 in New Westminster: Mesdames Williams, Mitchell, Mc-Lorie, Wellwood, MacGeorge, Gillespie and Vey, and the Misses Blackwood, Copeland and Bromley Jubb.

The present mission board was asked to stand until after the convention, and the appointment of any further superintendents left until the second Thursday in June, when the next monthly meeting of the union will take place. The following superintendents were appointed at yesterday's meeting: Flowers and fruit, Mrs. Frank Andrews; white ribbon bulletins, Mrs. Wellwood; work among railwaymen and lumbermen, matron of the mission; legislation, petition and franchise, Mrs. Gordon Grant; evangelism, Mrs. Copeland; parlor meetings, Mrs. Weston; press, Miss Bromley Jubb; curfew, Mrs. Lambert; forenoon work, Mrs. Vey; Sabbath observance, Mrs. Wellwood; and moral education, Mrs. Norman.

SETTLE PROPORTION

Deputation and Council Discuss Re-pavement of Oak Bay Avenue.

"If you gentlemen are going to try and squeeze out of the city everything you can there is no use our wasting your time here any further, but—"

"O, very well," was the unanimous expression of the 20 odd ratepayers of Oak Bay avenue, at this remark of Mayor Morley's to them at last night's council meeting, and with one accord they reached for their hats and began to file out of the room. Alderman Dilworth interposed a few conciliatory remarks and they stayed long enough to come to a tentative understanding as to what would be a suitable settlement of the difficulties between them.

The ratepayers were there at the request of the council, which wished to discuss with them the repavement of Oak Bay avenue on a basis which the city could meet financially. The ratepayers at first asked that they be immune from paying anything for the tar macadam road which had proved so unsatisfactory and that they be asked to pay only 50 per cent of the new pavement. It was pointed out, however, that Oak Bay avenue was not a trunk road.

The arrangement finally made by both parties to be satisfactory was that the ratepayers should pay one-third of the tar macadam and two-thirds of the new asphalt, if it was begun right away.

AUSTRALIANS ARE GUESTS OF HONOR

Popular Visiting Cricketers Attend Dance at Alexandra Club; Express Appreciation

More than three hundred dancers were present at the reception dance held at the Alexandra Club last evening by the Pacific Coast Cricket Association in honor of the visiting Australian Cricket Club, the brilliant and showy decorations effected in the ballroom by great vases of glowing yellow broom and braiken most appropriately carrying out the compliment intended to the visiting club, whose colors were further shown in the favors of green and gold ribbon worn by the dance committee.

All the players of the visiting team were present, and conspicuous among the visitors was R. B. Boplain, the affable manager, who participated in the pleasures of the evening as an appreciative onlooker.

An excellent programme of music was provided by Heaton's orchestra, the augmented list of supper extras being provided by Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mr. Wright, and the guests taking full advantage of the removal in the second half of the programme of the ban upon scores by demanding to the full powers of their persuasion all that the genial conductor of the orchestra would give in the way of additional numbers.

The decorations in the supper-room were beautiful, resplendent broom being massed over the mantles, and in gilt vases on the tables, while full justice was done to the delicious supper provided by Mrs. Jenner. In the ballroom an additional compliment was extended to the Australians in the crossing of their flag with the Union Jack at one end of the hall over an enormous "A" in green and gold lights which in several of the dances afforded the only illuminations in the hall, while, at the close of the programme, and after the singing of the National Anthem three cheers for the Australian cricketers were called for and given with lusty enthusiasm, followed by "Auld Lang Syne."

The popular guests apparently appreciated the efforts made for their entertainment, and expressed their gratitude for the kindness which had prompted their hosts and the ladies who had assisted in making their visit to Victoria so enjoyable.

The cheeriness at the dance, which was given under the patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Paterson, were Mrs. Henry Croft, Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Eberts, Mrs. Tilton and Mrs. Robertson, the dance committee who worked so energetically for the success of the function being K. Dennistoun, Col. Hobday, J. F. Mason, A. Ford Young and C. C. Tunnard.

Those present included the following members of the Australian team: A. Diamond, (Capt.), P. S. Arnot, J. N. Crawford, L. A. Cody, W. Barclay, S. Emery, A. L. Collins, A. A. Morley, C. G. Macartney, E. R. Mayne and G. S. Down.

The team leaves to-night for the mainland.
